Supervisor Controversy Holds Up Checks Bandits Get $175,000 at Bank in Port Chester

Major Observance Sunday Pope 80 Today, Sees Young Audience First

Vatican City, March 2 (AP)—Children from all parts of the world sang and danced around Pope Pius XII today to wish him a happy 80th birthday.

The papal audience for the children was the first of many events today celebrating the Pontiff's birthday and the 17th anniversary of his election as spiritual head of the world's 450 million Roman Catholics.

Dulles Off For Asia, Far East Seeks Information For U. S. Policy

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles sets off today on a visit to Asia and the Far East, major front in the cold war.

He hopes on his return later this month to have information which will help him decide whether U. S. Foreign Policy should be revised to meet the Russian drive for new political and economic influence in the area's underdeveloped countries.

The immediate purpose is Dulles' scheduled attendance March 6-8 at a meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) at Karachi, Pakistan.

Dulles also will visit nine other capitals from New Delhi to Tokyo and confer with a wide range of Asian leaders including India's Prime Minister Nehru.

The 25,000-mile journey will raise his total travel since he took office three years ago to approximately 300,000 miles.

The trip will be Dulles' first to Asia since the Soviets following the Summit Conference last July, launched their political and economic drive to penetrate Asian nations with offers of cooperation and financial aid.

Dulles has termed their operations in Asia and the Middle East dangerous new threats to the security of the free world. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Lucy Case Is In State of Confusion

Birmingham, Ala., March 2 (AP)—The case of Autherine Lucy, Negro student who wants to continue her studies at the all-white University of Alabama, was in a state bordering on total confusion today.

Miss Lucy, 26, was "permanently expelled" by the board of trustees of the 125-year-old university at Tuscaloosa at a secret meeting Wednesday night.

The trustees' action came within hours of an order from Federal District Judge H. Hobart Grooms ordering her readmission to the university. She had been suspended Feb. 6 after students and others described by university officials and police as "outsiders" had rioted for three days over her presence.

Miss Lucy's attorney, Arthur D. Shores, said he had no idea what legal course he would pursue in an additional effort to have the 26-year-old former school teacher re-admitted to the university.

Miss Lucy herself was in New York seeking medical attention and "rest, peace and quiet."

She left Birmingham yesterday in company with Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. The NAACP has been backing her efforts over the past 29 months to be admitted to the university.

In expelling Miss Lucy from the university, the trustees accused her of making "false, defamatory, impertinent and scandalous charges" against university officials.

The expulsion resolution said, "no educational institution can maintain necessary disciplinary action if any student, regardless of race, guilty of the conduct of Autherine J. Lucy be permitted to remain."

The Negro woman was enrolled at the university Feb. 1 in compliance with a federal district court order issued by Grooms.

In the wake of the riots, the board of trustees ordered her suspension for "her safety" and the "safety of others."

Teller Held 10 Hours By Robbers

Whole Night Is Given to Plans

Port Chester, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Two pistol-brandishing gunmen kidnaped a woman teller, held her captive all night and then robbed a drive-in bank today of $175,000.

The bandits took virtually all the bank's cash.

The woman teller was held 10 hours. She was bound and gagged for a time, but otherwise unharmed.

THE GUNMEN spent the night preparing for the robbery of a branch of the County Trust Co., near the center of this fashionable suburb on Long Island Sound, 25 miles from the heart of New York city.

The actual looting took only a few minutes. It was carried out while two policemen in a parked police car were only about 35 feet away, unaware that a robbery was taking place.

THE STORY BOOK robbery plot began to unfold at 10:15 last night, when the teller, Mrs. Mary Kostolos, a widow, drove up to her garage four blocks from the bank.

She was about to open the garage door when a man appeared out of the darkness, produced a pistol and forced her back into her car.

A SECOND MAN jumped into the car, and with one of the men at the wheel, they drove to White Plains, eight miles away where they blindfolded Mrs. Kostolos, and began plying her with questions about routine at the bank. They asked who usually appeared first at the building to open in the morning, who had

NAACP Is Planning Hard Fight Will Go to Court Concerning Ban

Baton Rouge, La., March 2 (AP)—Louisiana's dramatic legal move to outlaw the NAACP under an anti-Klan law brought promise today of a hot court battle.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said it would "be compelled to defend" itself against the civil suit in a state district court.

BEHIND the state's sudden counterattack yesterday is the hope of segregation leaders that it may blunt the NAACP's drive for public school integration.

Atty. Gen. Fred S. LeBlanc asked the court to dissolve the NAACP in Louisiana and ban NAACP meetings.

He acted under terms of a 1924 law, still untouched on the books, requiring about every type of organization to file annual membership lists with the secretary of state. It was enacted to drive out the Klu Klux Klan.

THIS THE NAACP has failed to do in the last three years, the state petition charged. Under the law, when there are violations, the attorney general is directed "to proceed by injunction."

Physicians Will Study Removal Of TB Patients

A committee from the Ulster County Medical Society met with the Health Committee of the Board of Supervisors last evening at the court house to discuss the proposed closing of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and transfer of patients to the Homer Folks State Hospital at Oneonta.

The matter of closing the local tuberculosis hospital has been advocated and presently a survey is underway by State Health officials, at the request of the board of supervisors, to determine the advisability of taking such action. The board will receive the state's report and then determine the advisability.

At the meeting last evening the matter was discussed by both committees and the Medical Society Committee will make a report to the monthly meeting of the Medical Society next Tuesday, it was said. What position will be taken by the Medical Society as a body will be determined by the society after the committee presents its report next week.

Extended Forecast For East New York

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—The extended forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday:

Eastern New York—Moderate to mild weather is expected the next 5 days to midweek. Some cooling over the weekend and by midweek, but temperatures averaging well above normal. Some rain, possibly mixed with snow in the north portions, is expected Sunday night and Monday and again late Wednesday. Some chance of a brief period of light snow or rain Saturday night.

Total precipitation ¼ to ½ inch in water content. The mild weather should be favorable for maple sap flow, especially about Sunday.

To Pay for Fires Along Thruway

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—The Thruway Authority has offered to pay municipalities, fire districts or fire companies for their help in putting out fires on the super-highway.

Warren M. Wells, operations director, yesterday informed fire coordinators in the 19 counties along the route that $50 would be paid for the first call and $35 for each additional call up to a maximum of $200 a year.

The authority plans to buy 18 fire trucks. After their delivery only major fires and those in thruway buildings would require calling local companies.

Both the New Jersey and Pennsylvania turnpikes have such voluntary arrangements with local companies.

Name Accord Girl And Wallkill Boy To State 4-H Day

Two Ulster county 4-H Club young people will represent county 4-H'ers in Albany, March 5 and 6, for State 4-H Capital Day. Capital Day is a feature of National 4-H Club week, March 3-11.

Those chosen to represent Ulster county are Janis Kelder, Accord and John Romaine, Wallkill. Edmund R. Bower county 4-H Club agent, who announced names of the representatives, said they will be accompanied by Patricia French, assistant 4-H Club agent.

THE TWO-DAY visit to the State Capital will be climaxed Tuesday afternoon when the 4-H Club members will be guests at a reception by Governor Averell S. Harriman. Earlier that day the young people will have breakfast with assemblymen and senators from their areas.

Other activities Tuesday include a talk by Clayton Seagars, director of conservation education of State Conservation Department. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Saturday Tax Deadline

City Treasurer Oscar A. Goodsell today issued notice that Saturday is the last day for payment of the first installment of the general tax without penalty. The treasurer's office remains open until noon tomorrow.

Official Action Awaited, State Likely to Approve

Four school districts in the vicinity of West Hurley may send their seventh and eighth grade students to Oteora Central instead of Kingston, it was disclosed at a meeting of the Kingston Board of Education last night.

They are Hurley Districts 1, 5, 6 and 8. No. 5 is a one-room school.

NO OFFICIAL action has been taken, however. The matter is still under discussion.

A group in those districts recently invited Principal John Moehle of Oteora and Superintendent Earl Soper of Kingston to speak at a meeting of area residents. In view of the circumstances, it was deemed advisable by each of them to decline the invitation.

The meeting was held, with some feeling in favor of Oteora, it was reported to the board. It is also believed that Oteora would accept such a request from the West Hurley area.

IT IS FELT by the Kingston Board of Education that the State Education Department would approve such an arrangement if the consensus of feeling in the petitioning districts appeared to be strong.

Superintendent Soper pointed out, however, that there has been very little opportunity for the people of that area to know what consolidation with Kingston might offer, pointing out that Kingston hasn't received the Greater Kingston District plan from the State Education Department yet.

COST WAS cited as a possible reason for the shift toward Oteora by one member of the Kingston board. Others questioned whether it would actually be so. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Escorted Out of Jordan

Dismissal of Glubb Blow to British

Amman, Jordan, March 2 (AP)—Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, dismissed as army commander, was escorted out of Jordan today under guard of 16 tanks. His ouster by King Hussein was a new blow to British prestige in the Middle East.

The British government, which set up Jordan's Arab Legion and has been subsidizing it, said it had assurances friendly relations would continue. But the foreign office in London said the "abrupt dismissal of this distinguished officer" brought deep concern to London officials.

Glubb, leader of the Arab Legion in the war against Israel in 1948, was dismissed as chief of the army general staff. Britain pays Jordan $22,400,000 annually for support of the 20,000-man legion. This is more than half the budget of the Arab kingdom.

In January Syria, Egypt and Saudi Arabia offered Jordan an annual grant to replace the British subsidy. The declared aim of the Syrian-Egyptian-Saudi Arabian offer was to strengthen Jordan's rejection of the proposed grant have not been held, so far as is known.

King Hussein and Premier Samir El Rifai carried out the ouster of Glubb and other British officers to satisfy strong anti-western elements demanding that the Arab Legion come completely under Arab control.

Legality At Bank Questioned Payroll, Relief Money Affected

The controversy as to whether Edward Eckert, duly elected supervisor of the town, is still supervisor or whether Arnold L. Ellsworth's appointment by the town board is legal, has reached the state where the town employees have faced a "payless" state. Checks issued by Eckert for the February payroll are not being honored at the State of New York National Bank pending clarification as to who is supervisor.

This statement was given to The Freeman today when it was revealed payroll checks had been presented and not honored.

IN ADDITION to the payroll checks issued the last of February to town employees, town relief checks are being held up. One town resident stated "the grocers are holding the bag" since the checks are not being honored after being presented to stores and then deposited for clearance.

How much this involves was not stated. Highway checks issued the middle of February to employees were honored but the checks sent out the last of February are not being honored.

THE TOWN BOARD of the town will meet on Wednesday, March 14, in regular session and at that time it is stated "there may be two supervisors attending the meeting."

It was stated by counsel representing Supervisor Eckert that all town accounts are deposited in the State of New York National Bank and the morning following the "purported" appointment of Ellsworth as supervisor to succeed Eckert, a letter was sent to the bank over his signature informing the bank that he considered himself still supervisor and advising the bank not to honor any checks signed by anyone else since he was still the duly elected and acting supervisor who was solely authorized to act and sign checks.

ACTING ON that authority, and until the situation is cleared legally, the bank is apparently holding up payment of all town checks.

It was stated that the highway payroll was made up in the middle of February and delivered to the town superintendent who distributes the checks. These checks were honored.

Later, counsel stated, the town clerk wrote a letter to the bank advising the bank the position the town board took in the appointment of Ellsworth and in effect asking the bank not to pay checks unless signed by Ellsworth.

Bells Voted Memorials To Firemen

A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Company, Inc., voted last night in favor of setting up two of the city's old fire bells as memorials to volunteer firemen.

Fire Chief James M. Brett recently announced that he was considering removal of the bells from six fire towers. They would be sold and the money used to buy necessary department supplies.

The Wicks company decided to forward a letter to the Board of Fire Commissioners, and to send a committee before the board to ask that when the bells are removed that one be mounted in the uptown area and another downtown to serve as memorials to deceased volunteers of the city.

The bells, which date back to the 1890's are in the towers of Cornell and Wiltwyck fire stations, Excelsior, Twaalfskill, Union and Cordts hose companies.

Another resolution adopted by the firemen noted that members of the company were not in favor of closing the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and removing its patients elsewhere. The company's secretary was instructed to forward communications to this effect to the Common Council and Board of Supervisors.

Win Congress Is Aim GOP Plans for Sweep, Ike Leading

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Republicans confident of winning with President Eisenhower focused their strategy for 1956 today on sweeping congressional candidates to victory with him.

The strategy looks a little into the future, beyond the current two-party sparring over Eisenhower's second term bid and his health, and beyond current Republican uncertainty over a vice presidential nominee.

The GOP campaign planning will crystallize in more detailed form at a party powwow of members of the national committee, state chairmen and Republican Senate and House members. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall says it will be called soon, probably for Washington.

Such a session is bound to produce, too, more talk about whether Vice President Nixon should again be second man on the GOP ticket.

Hall forecast yesterday it will again be Eisenhower and Nixon. So did Sen. Knowland of California, a political rival of the vice president in their home state.

Announcing his own availability, Eisenhower declined to say Wednesday whether he wants Nixon as a running mate once more. He said he will wait to see what the GOP convention does in August. At the same time, he has often done before, he praised Nixon highly.

Still, there is some Republican grumbling that Nixon is such a controversial figure that the party might do better to drop him. Rep. Hillings (R-Calif.) yesterday challenged any GOP leaders who feel that way to step out in the open and say so. He said he doubted there would be any takers.

Nixon was sitting tight, accepting no calls from reporters.

Eddyville Resident Chosen For '56 College Who's Who

William J. Reilly of Eddyville has been selected for the 1955-56 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," according to an announcement from Siena College, Loudonville, N. Y.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Reilly of Eddyville, a graduate of St. Joseph's Parochial School, class of 1948, and Kingston High School, class of 1952.

Mr. Reilly will graduate from Siena College in June with a BBA degree in accounting. Announcement that he will be included in Who's Who was made by the Rev. Francis Sullivan, OFM, dean of Siena College.

Students compete for the honor in approximately 650 colleges and universities.

Father Sullivan is chairman of the Siena faculty committee which chose Mr. Reilly.

Selection is made on the following points:

1. The student's leadership and participation in extra curricular and academic activities.

2. His excellence in sincerity in scholarship.

3. His citizenship and service to the school.

4. His promise of future usefulness to business and society.

Last June Mr. Reilly attended the Reserve Officers Training

WILLIAM J. REILLY

Corps at Ft. Sill, Okla., and finished his six weeks' course with the rating of lieutenant colonel in artillery. He is battalion commander at Siena College.

Mr. Reilly's father, Arthur A. Reilly, recently retired as sergeant in the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, New York State Police.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS RED CROSS MONTH

Mayor Frederick H. Stang (center) Thursday proclaimed March as Red Cross month and urged all local residents to contribute generously to the $37,000 quota of the Ulster county chapter.

26 Men to Take Police Exam on Saturday Morning

An examination to establish an eligibility list for appointment of patrolmen to the local police department will be taken by 26 men at Kingston High School starting at 9 a. m. Saturday, Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said today.

Physical examinations and agility tests will be taken by the candidates after results of the written test are known.

An examination to establish an eligibility list for fire department appointments will be taken March 10. No vacancies are reported, to date, in this department, but a list will be established so that it may be used when needed.

Police Chief VanBuren indicated earlier this year that at least 10 more patrolmen are needed on the police force to make the department's 40-hour week fully effective.

Last reports on the examination to establish a fire department eligibility list indicated that only a few men will take the test.

Tax Cuts Not Feasible

New York, March 2 (AP)—Percival F. Brundage, deputy director of the U. S. budget, says tax cuts are not feasible this year if a balanced federal budget is to be achieved. Brundage, who takes office April 1 as budget director, told the New York Chamber of Commerce yesterday that military needs are a chief reason for ruling out a tax cut now. President Eisenhower, he said, "feels as strongly as any of us that our level of taxation is too high to be continued indefinitely without detrimental effects on the growth of our economy." "But this is not the time to take a tax cut," Brundage added.

Pope 80 Today

Jesus, would like to receive us.

"You know we come from all parts of the world. Wait."

SHE GESTURED and stepped back, to be followed individually by children of other lands, speaking in their native tongues. Among them was Ronald "Ronnie" Kimball, formerly of New York city, whose father Charles E. Kimball is chair stationmaster for Trans World Airways. He snapped to attention and said:

"The United States of America sends you wishes for your happy birthday and many returns of the day."

Others who spoke included an English boy and his tiny sister, 7-year-old Irish twin girls, a Canadian child, a Russian girl who solemnly handed a letter to the pontiff, and a Hungarian boy whose parents are said to be a Communist concentration camp.

Outside the hall 17 cardinals of the church and leading men of science gathered to present their birthday greetings. But the pontiff tarried with the children as though he could not leave them. Twice he got up from his chair in their midst—he did not use the papal throne—and each time began to talk to groups of the youngsters or to individual ones.

All Heated Up

Fort Smith, Ark. (AP)—Police got a long distance call from a man who said he thought he had left a burner without turning off the burner under his water heater. He told police where a key could be found and asked them to check for him. Police found all stoves in the house burning, a water heater with no thermostat and a can of boiling water on a circulating heater in the front room. Officers Chester Bean and Adolph McClain said they couldn't decide whether the water heater would have exploded before the heat from the stoves set fire to the house.

Winds Cause Damage

London, March 2 (AP)—Winds ranging up to 80 miles an hour raged across the British Isles today, causing widespread damage and driving dozens of ships to cover. Two deaths were blamed on the storms. The 488-ton coastal vessel Greenhaven was blown on the rocks off Donegal, Ireland. Her crew of 10 scrambled to a reef to await rescue. In northern England, hundreds of windows were blown in, chimneys crashed through roofs, walls collapsed and signboards were toppled.

Seven-Cent Increase

Dunkirk, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Two United Steelworkers locals at the Dunkirk plant of Alco Products Inc. have accepted a seven-cent hourly wage increase offered by the company. Michael Sam, international representative of the union announced today. The union's two Schenectady locals approved the wage increase offer, made during negotiations under a wage reopening clause, yesterday. The Dunkirk vote was not announced.

Rensselaer Deficit

Troy, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Rensselaer county reports a $385,215 deficit for last year. The annual report of County Treasurer James M. Brahan shows total expenditures of $6,293,301. He says the deficit included $131,611 owed at the start of the year, plus higher county welfare payments. Brahan's report went to the board of supervisors yesterday.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury Feb. 28, 1956: Balance, $4,703,170,043.99; deposits fiscal year July 1, $41,096,316,230.67; withdrawals fiscal year, $47,164,422,956.51; total debt (x) $280,073,970,193.23; gold assets, $21,694,925,982.87; (x) includes $470,288,060.80 debt not subject to statutory limit.

A Glass Standard

Chestertown, Md. (AP)—One question on an economics midterm examination at Washington College here was: "What would happen if the gold backing of our money supply were abandoned and replaced with a backing of used, empty Coke bottles?" The Economics Department declined to comment on the answers submitted.

Eisenhower Sends Message to Pope

Washington, March 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower extended best wishes to Pope Pius XII on his 80th birthday today and expressed hope the pontiff will live many more years to serve the "cause of freedom and peace among men."

The President dispatched this message:

"Your long career of devoted service for God and humanity has earned you esteem and affection around the world. On your 80th birthday anniversary I join men and women of all faiths in best wishes to you for many more years of devotion to the cause of freedom and peace among men."

"I am asking my friend John McCone to be present at the ceremony on March 11 marking the event to convey my felicitations personally."

McCone, a Los Angeles businessman, is a former deputy secretary of defense. He is a personal friend of the President. The event McCone will attend will be a Pontifical Mass in St. Peter's Basilica on Sunday, March 11, the day before the anniversary of the Pope's coronation. This will be the major observance in connection with the Pope's birthday today, which also is the 17th anniversary of his election as spiritual head of the Roman Catholic Church.

Bandits Get . . .

the combination and other details that would help in their operation.

They returned to Port Chester, took Mrs. Kostolos' bank key and entered by the front door about 3:30 a. m. They continued questioning her about whether the employees had signals, such as the raising or lowering of window blinds, to give an alarm outside.

Finally Mrs. Kostolos was bound and gagged and put into a closet.

At 7:40 a. m., Ernest Marino, a bank clerk, reported for duty but was unable to get in. He went away and came back 10 minutes later. One of the robbers opened the door and dragged him inside.

THREE MINUTES before the 8 o'clock opening, J. Purdy Ungemack, an assistant treasurer, arrived to open the bank for the payday rush of business. When he entered, the robbers covered him with a pistol.

They brought Mrs. Kostolos from the closet, as she had part of the vault combination and Ungemack part of it. The robbers made them open the vault.

ONE ROBBER, with a pistol in his pocket, forced Ungemack to carry the bags of money out to Mrs. Kostolos' car at the curb.

The other robber stood in the doorway of the bank holding a pistol pointed at the bank officer.

As Ungemack came out to the sidewalk, he brushed against John Romanello, a high school teacher and bank customer, and whispered "It's a holdup, hold-up, please call police."

Romanello ran across the street to a grocery and asked the proprietor to call police. A police alarm was flashed at 8:15 a. m. By this time the robbers had disappeared in Mrs. Kostolos' car in the direction of White Plains.

POLICE SAID the patrolmen in the parked car did not suspect anything was wrong when they recognized Ungemack as the man carrying the money bags. Police said they assumed it was a normal transfer of funds until the alarm was flashed.

Police immediately set up road blocks, but the robbers escaped. Mrs. Kostolos' car was found abandoned in a parking lot several blocks from the scene.

Mrs. Kostolos, unharmed but unnerved by her experiences, told police and FBI agents the story of the night's happenings. She said she lived alone and that accounted for the fact that her absence from home all night went unnoticed.

She told authorities that she believed a car followed her automobile as the robbers drove her around, and that it might have been waiting at the parking lot where her car was abandoned.

Since 1900 the number of Americans over 65 years old has quadrupled while the total population of the nation has doubled.

Big Boosts Are Voted in Health Appropriations

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted a big boost in funds to fight cancer, heart trouble and other diseases as it recommended $8,301,508,041 in new money to finance 24 government agencies.

The money is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1 and is $154,155,641 more than President Eisenhower had requested.

HOWEVER, the increase was more than accounted for by the committee's decision to add 305 million dollars more than Eisenhower had requested for the civil service retirement fund.

The committee said the extra money would help keep the fund on a sound actuarial basis. It noted that the fund technically has a deficit of $13,400,000,000 because the government hasn't been regularly paying its share to supplement the 6 per cent contributions of federal employees.

ONE OF THE sharpest cuts, $37,100,000 below the President's request, was made in funds for the Civil Defense Administration, for which the committee voted $86,100,000.

For operation of the National Health Institutes, which conduct research in medicine, the committee voted $135,525,000. This is nine million more than Eisenhower requested and $37,102,000 more than the institutes received this year.

THE COMMITTEE said the extra money will help attain "maximum benefits that can reasonably be expected" from research programs now under way. It earmarked four millions of the additional money for training of scientists and other research workers.

The National Cancer Institute was allowed $34,437,000, a boost of two millions over the President's proposal; the Mental Health Institute $23,749,000, an increase of two millions; the Heart Institute $25,106,000, a three million hike; the dental program $3,471,000, a boost of $500,000; the arthritis and metabolic diseases program $13,845,000, an increase of $500,000; and the neurology and blindness programs $14,196,000, a hike of two millions. For microbiology activities the committee voted $8,799,000, a cut of one million.

NAACP is . . .

tion or otherwise" to dissolve the offending organizations.

In the first court step, District Judge Coleman Lindsey ordered the NAACP and 12 defendants to show cause March 19 why a preliminary injunction should not be issued.

HE ALSO directed the defendants to answer state questions, which are listed in the petition. They are an attempt to show by the defendants' own answers that the NAACP failed to file its membership lists.

The NAACP has shaken Louisiana twice within the last few days, first was a federal court decision in New Orleans knocking out the state's 1954 laws attempting to skirt the U. S. Supreme Court ban on public school segregation. Last Wednesday, a second NAACP suit in the New Orleans federal court attacked classroom segregation in the capital city here.

State Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of the joint legislative committee on segregation, said his group had spent nearly a year with the Attorney General and Executive Office planning the lawsuit to outlaw the NAACP.

HE TERMED it "Louisiana's first court offensive against the NAACP," and suggested it would set a pattern for other Dixie states bent on keeping segregation.

Rainach, arch foe of the NAACP, branded the group "an alien, arrogant destructive force seeking to drive a bitter wedge between the white and Negro races in the south."

He said the author has written seven books on elementary science.

Goodwin Certain Of Neff's Visits

Washington, March 2 (AP)—A Senate inquiry into activities of oil lawyer-lobbyist John M. Neff brought sharpened conflict today over whether Neff twice went to an Iowa Republican official with offers of campaign money for Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

First, Ivan D. Evans of Broken Bow, Neb., Neff's lawyer, offered the special investigating committee three affidavits challenging the accuracy of testimony given Wednesday by Robert K. Goodwin of Des Moines, Iowa's GOP national committee.

Then Goodwin once more took the witness chair and swore he was absolutely certain that Neff had paid him two visits despite the denial there was more than one. Goodwin previously testified—and Neff had denied—that Neff offered him $2,500 for Hickenlooper's re-election campaign on a first visit and, on a return trip, had offered $1,000.

Plattekill

Plattekill, March 2—The regular meeting of the Spanish Club was held at the club house Friday evening. Mrs. Albina Orlovski spoke on the Blood Assurance program, sponsored by the Plattekill Grange.

An excellent program was presented at the Gay Nineties Revue held Saturday evening at Plattekill Grange Hall. Those participating wore costumes of that era. Mrs. George Lare of Gardnertown and Henry Barclay of this place were prize winning entrants. Old-fashioned dancing, singing and games were enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Richard Jacobowitz, Eugene Arasate Jr., Arnold W. Wager, have joined the Newburgh Co. B, 854th Engineer Aviation Battalion, Army Reserve. They will spend six months on active duty, after which they will be released for seven and one-half years part time with the reserve. Col. Carl E. Hedman is battalion commander. Arnold's brother, Edmund F. Wager Jr., is also a member of the reserve.

Local students of Walkill Central School and members of the senior class are selling tickets for the annual class play, "Time Out For Ginger" to be presented at the Walkill School on Friday and Saturday evening, March 9-10.

Franklyn M. Branley of Westwood, N. J., a writer of scientific books, has added two new ones, "Mars" and "Experiences in the Principles of Space Travel," being published by the Crowell Co., of New York. Mr. Branley, a teacher of science at Jersey State Teachers College in Jersey City, N. J., attended Plattekill School when he made his home with his brothers, Kenneth and Melville Branley, now of Newburgh, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Branley's first book, "Lode Star," was science fiction.

Since then the author has written seven books on elementary science.

Activities of this 21st Capital Day are in keeping with the goals of 4-H boys and girls all over the nation. All activities are directed toward developing responsible and constructive members of families, communities, the nation, and the world. The continuing theme of the 1956 National 4-H Club Week is "Improving Family and Community Living."

Dog's Barking Saves 13 Mountandale, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—A dog's barking led to the escape of 13 persons in four families when fire broke out early today in apartments over a row of four stores and offices. The dog awakened its mistress and she roused the others. The fire, discovered at 4 a. m., destroyed the interior of the building. Firemen from Fallsburgh and Woodridge aided Mountandale firemen. Firemen could not immediately determine the cause of the fire, which they said started in an electrical contractor's store. No estimate of damage was available.

Paris, March 2 (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau will go to Moscow May 14 to visit the leaders of the Soviet government.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 2 (AP)—For the second straight day, the oils today led the stock market moderately higher.

Prices were up 1 to around 2 points throughout the list. Losses were fractional.

As yesterday, the oils had excellent help from the railroads, steels, coppers, and chemicals. And once again the motors were neglected by buyers.

Trading at times was brisk and hit a pace around 2,500,000 shares for the day.

The market yesterday rallied well under the leadership of oil shares. Before the day was done, just about every major division was well ahead except motors. That continued today, and at noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was ahead 70 cents at $180.90.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange in heavy trading.

ly be cheaper. Superintendent Soper pointed out that all these questions were rather "nebulous" at present.

A request by Mayor Frederick H. Stang for an increase of $5,000 in the city's charge for collection of school taxes was referred to the finance committee. The city now charges $10,000 for such collection. The new charge would be $15,000. The figure of $10,000 was set many years ago. If the city did not make the collections the board of education would have to set up a special tax collecting agency.

THE BOARD approved a revenue anticipation note of $150,000 to tide the school system over until April 25 at which time the board will receive $415,000 in state aid. The note, reported by Robert O'Reilly, chairman of the finance committee, to be "about two per cent" will mature in May.

The resignation of Samuel G. Vaughn, mathematics teacher, and Mrs. Sylvia Chipman, teacher of remedial speech, were accepted by the board with regret.

Nicholas J. Amato was employed by the board as a teacher in social studies or citizen education at the high school at a salary of $5,300.

Christian Arabs, Druses Joining Israeli Fighters

Haifa, Israel, March 2 (P)—Christian Arabs and Druses are volunteering for and being drafted into the Israeli army to serve alongside Jewish neighbors.

An organized group of Christian Arab youths volunteered and has left for an army camp. These members of the Arab group of the Histadrut (General Trade Union) decided to enter the army despite opposition from "those who call themselves our leaders," their spokesman said.

There is a general conscription law in Israel, but it has not been applied to Christian Arab citizens or the Druses, an independent religious sect. In the future, the army has announced, the regular 2½-year army service will be required of Druses. Many Druses have served as volunteers ever since the war between Israel and the Arab countries in 1948.

Israel has about 134,000 Moslem Arabs, 45,000 Christian Arabs and 18,000 Druses.

The origin of the Druses is obscure and their rites and dogma are kept secret. Many are believed descended from the Crusaders. In Israel most of them live near Haifa, on the Mt. Carmel range and in Galilee. Other Druse communities are in Syria and Lebanon. Like the Arab minority, they are represented in the Israeli Parliament.

Presbyteries Favor Ordaining Women

Philadelphia, March 1 (P)—A proposal to ordain women ministers in the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., has been approved by a majority of the presbyteries of the church, the office of its general assembly announced Thursday.

Of the 257 presbyteries in the church, 156 approved and 27 voted against the proposal. The votes gives the proposal more than enough votes needed for passage, and it is to be incorporated in the church constitution at the general assembly meeting here May 24-30.

Two earlier attempts to permit ordination of women ministers failed to gain approval.

The 250th anniversary of the first presbytery of the church will be celebrated at the Philadelphia meeting. The general assembly office also announced that two candidates have been endorsed by their presbyteries for moderatorship of the assembly. They are David Proffitt, a ruling elder of the new Providence Presbyterian Church, Maryville, Tenn.; and Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church, Washington. The Hudson (N.Y.) Presbytery also has endorsed the Rev. James H. Robinson, pastor of the Church of the Master, New York, and a member of the New York Presbytery.

Seeks 20th Term

Dunkirk, N. Y., March 2 (P)—Rep. Daniel A. Reed, 80, has announced his intentions to seek a 20th term in Congress. Reed, ranking Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, notified the Chautauque County Republican Committee yesterday that he would again seek the nomination from the 43rd District. He has been a member of Congress for the past 38 years. Last May, while visiting in Italy, Reed suffered a heart attack.

Shoe Co., Will Stop 'Corrective' Claims

Washington, March 2 (P)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) said today a Lowell, Mass., maker of children's shoes has agreed not to claim that they will correct or prevent defects or abnormalities in children's feet.

The agreement, the FTC said, did not constitute any admission of wrongdoing on the part of the firm, Sherman Bros. Shoe Mfg. Corp., of (230 Jackson street) Lowell, makers of 'Judy N' Jerry Kiddie Korrekatives' children's shoes.

FTC said the stipulation provides that the firm will stop making these claims:

1. That the shoes are corrective or that wearing them corrects or prevents defects or abnormalities of the feet. Such a claim will not be made through the use of "Kiddie Korrekatives" in the name of the shoes.

2. That the shoes insure a child's foot health or have significant beneficial effect on foot health.

The FTC said the stipulation does not prevent the firm from representing that the shoes embody devices "often approved by physicians as beneficial" in some instances.

Wife Wins Lawsuit, Hubby Faces One

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (P)—Mrs. Marion T. Miller won a $7,500 verdict in a lawsuit Thursday, automatically putting her husband on the receiving end of another suit for the same amount.

It works out this way: Last March, an automobile door slammed on Mrs. Miller's right little finger. She later lost part of it.

The car was a demonstrator, being driven by her auto-salesman husband.

She sued the car's owner and her husband's employer, Livermore Chevrolet Co., for $75,000. The company filed suit against the husband for whatever amount the wife won.

A Supreme Court jury today returned the $7,500 verdict for Mrs. Miller.

THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION

The path of duty is not always clear. President Eisenhower pondered long the question of where it lay for him. He decided that it lay in offering himself for further service to his country, if the people should want that.

Probably few leaders in American history have ever had so difficult an individual choice to make. No one could have made the decision more conscientiously than Mr. Eisenhower.

To the end he weighed soberly the arguments on both sides. He refused to allow himself to be pressed to a choice against his own will, though political and general public clamor rang in his ears. Continuously he tested himself physically to get a measure of his endurance, to learn more than even the doctors could tell him.

For he saw from the outset that what was at stake was not just a matter of his own life or death. The security of his country was deeply involved. To be stricken fatally or gravely incapacitated in the course of his second term would perhaps be to inflict great confusion and uncertainty upon the American people in a critical age.

The President had to be satisfied that the prospect of this happening was reasonably slender, no more, possibly, than for any man of his 65 years.

He had to satisfy himself, too, that he could perform through another term to the limits demanded of a President who must lead not only his country but all the free world in the hour of its greatest competition with tyranny. He knew this was no moment to test the practicality of part-time duty.

The American people have learned to trust Mr. Eisenhower as a soldier and a statesman. They can be confident that in reaching favorable answers on these difficult points, he has been more severe on himself than any but his most rabid opponents would be.

It has been plain for some time that the President wants to serve another term. Otherwise, his painful self-trial on the matter of health would have been pointless. He is too simple and direct a man to have pretended he was weighing the health question just to buy a little further leverage with Congress or the Republican party.

Now that the choice is made, its wisdom is bound to be debated by some, and that is proper. There can be no justification for silence on so vital an issue as a man's physical and other fitness for the great office of the presidency.

The people must now decide—and in his radio-TV talk the President listed the factors of decision. The people must decide what is the real essence of this task, and whether in their judgment Dwight Eisenhower is equipped—as he believes he is—to carry it out until January, 1961. This decision they must weigh, with all the facts and the lessons of history as their guide, as carefully as he has weighed his own monumental choice.

HOOVER COMMISSION GAIN

The Hoover Commission for the streamlining of the federal government reports that 16 per cent of the recommendations made in its second report have been adopted, with a saving of $300,000,000. They urge the enactment of the rest.

As these, however, include fundamental matters of policy, such as the scrapping of the Tennessee Valley Authority, they are not likely to have as easy sailing as the original recommendations. The first proposals were uncontroversial, and accepted by almost everyone as decidedly sensible. The new ideas seem to be inspired by individual philosophies of Commission members, and therefore lack much of the general appeal of the earlier recommendations.

The world waits anxiously to see what new developments will come from the Communist party convention. It was just a couple of years ago that during the course of such a convention some Communist invented the telephone.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

RELEASED!

We, Americans, used to be a very sentimental people. We opened shows, dances, meetings with a patriotic anthem like "The Star-Spangled Banner" and closed with "Home, Sweet Home." At dances that was the signal to clear out. The orchestra put its instruments away and the lights began to be put out and soon everybody was on the way home. It was quite a simple, sentimental and unsophisticated world and it was not so long ago because I can remember it and I am not that old.

Today I feel very young and chipper for I have been released from the hospital and am back home among the people and things I know best and am accustomed to. My doctors sure gave me a tough time toward the end. As I told the one who looked after me for a quarter of a century, he must be trying to make a Federal case out of it.

One of the side effects of this kind of illness is that a person becomes too concerned with his physical body, with himself. A kind of egocentricity sets in. Every ache, every pain, everything physical becomes a matter of primary importance, when the truth is that human life on this planet has gone on with or without us for so long that the significance of any one individual is not as great as we like to believe.

And that one discovers best within a few minutes after one has arrived home. In the hospital, the sick man is the center of attention of a host of persons, doctors, nurses, technicians, even dietitians. When one gets home, there is a functioning, continuing household. Things have gone along during one's illness as they had to. Children must go to school. The dog must be walked. And in a well-run family, they get along without hysteria when it looks as though the old man might die. In a family which knows and practices religion, death is not feared for they trust in God. Such families find great comfort in such beliefs. They also have faith in each other and therefore face crises without hopelessness.

So one returns to such an environment not the center of all creation but as a member of a family. Joe, the dog, was speechless to see me. He had been told that I would return. Uncertain, he had begun not to wag his tail so violently at the mention of my name. But dogs do know by that subconscious sense which humans have too if they permit themselves to believe that what they call a hunch is often that inner experience speaking loudly and understandably.

And so, one goes back to life. Those early hours of a heart attack, when one is between and betwixt, are not the most difficult. It is when one wants to show off, when one forgets that his life has just been spared and that it is not necessary to prove to the world that a Samson-like physical endurance is evidence of anything. Samson never thought as well as Aristotle nor was his morality as noble as St. Francis, but he could push marble columns by sheer physical strength and bring the roof down on his head. So he brought the roof down on his head! A great achievement!

As I lay on the hospital bed reading about Ike's feats of endurance in the company of George Humphrey, I wondered if it took as much out of a man to hit a golf ball or shoot a quail as it does to make a correct decision which will affect the lives of millions of human beings.

My doctors may think differently about such matters than Dr. Paul Dudley White but they keep telling me to avoid deep emotional tensions. I have not yet asked them what they think a deep emotional tension is but I should imagine that it is what Abraham Lincoln went through when he wrote the Emancipation Proclamation or what Harry Truman went through when he ordered the first A-Bomb hurled at Hiroshima. Maybe statesmen reach their important positions because they can do such things without deep emotional strains and stresses that literally break one's heart, which is what a coronary occlusion is. Maybe they are great men because they are unaffected by great events.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
PSYCHOLOGISTS IN INDUSTRY

Yesterday we began a study of psychologists in action and I would like to go on today to the place they can take in industry. Every industrial plant, every office, every military installation is a society in miniature, with many forms of group life. Since the late 1920's numerous studies in factories have shown how group feelings affect the way people work and the way they react to changes in their work routines. While workers will resist as a group when they fear change, they will also accept it as a group if they are told about it in advance and can participate in setting up the new work routines and production goals. In fact, they then adapt to the new methods and reach the new production goals with surprising speed.

Informal groups spring up in any society of workers, whether management likes it or not. Often they have leaders the bosses don't even know exist. Psychologists call such men "natural" leaders and their groups "natural" teams, as distinct from organized groups with "formal" leaders whom management appoints. An old-time foreman, when asked how he handled a new employee, said, "I just stand there and stare him down, to kinda show him how dumb he is." "And then?" "Then I spit." This is not the kind of foreman modern industry tries to find. Often a psychiatrist is brought in to help pick out the leaders it needs. In a typical case, the head office identifies for him the better and poorer of its 100 supervisors, all of whom he studies through tests and interviews. He finds the better ones to be higher in intelligence and emotional maturity, willing to accept blame and responsibility. They think in terms of "WE are working together toward a common goal," not, "I'm telling you." The poorer foremen are often insecure, self-protective, and view their subordinates as objects to manipulate in their own interests. To complete his assignment, the psychologist works out methods for selecting people of the better type and training programs to develop their talents.

Still another approach to morale problems is counseling and in a company such as Western Electric there are 55 full-time counselors. The worker with a problem or discouragement has a private, confidential interview in which he is encouraged to let off steam if he feels like it, about his wife, the cranky foreman, or company personnel policy. The value of "talking it out" is widely recognized today. Often this is all that is needed for a worker to get back on the job with renewed zeal. He may, however, require several interviews—perhaps some explanation of company policy, and suggestions about his family problem, how to get along with his foreman, or other jobs he might work towards. The counselor never offers to do anything for the employee; he tries to help him to help himself. Some companies counsel their older workers to help prepare them for retirement.

Behind the skills of the school, clinical, industrial, and all other psychologists lies a body of knowledge about human behavior which has been patiently developed by laboratory experiments. Some of this knowledge has been gained through a study of animal behavior. Tomorrow we will discuss the animal behavior laboratory at the Natural History Museum in New York City.

"Boris Just Wrote That Dirty Word Again"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington—(NEA)—They're already turning the crank for that annual spring hysteria here known as the National Cherry Blossom Festival.

In spite of the fact that they've got special sprays and treatments to control the blossoming of the famed cherry trees around the Tidal Basin, downtown bookmakers are giving two to one odds that the blossoming will not coincide with the festival dates of April 7 and 8.

Other festival headaches have begun to set in. Pat Nixon, wife of the vice president, is honorary chairman of the big festival luncheon which helps launch the affair. Now it appears she'll be out of town for the event.

They first asked Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams to crown the blossom queen. When he heard he'd have to kiss the queen he refused. However, he agreed to spin the wheel which selects the queen if someone else would do the bussing.

When Bernard Baruch was approached for the crowning job he replied: "I'm 87 and too old for that kind of job. You need someone in his early 80's."

Former President Herbert Hoover also turned down the job. There's thought being given to asking the greatest queen kisser of all, former Vice President Alben Barkley and now senator from Kentucky, to do the job.

THE RUCKUS over lobbying is small potatoes compared to the one each state delegation suffers in selecting a queen to represent the state at the Cherry Blossom festival.

For example, a rebellious group thought it was high time that some gal other than a female relative of Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) have this honor. So they moved in fast and gave it to a beautiful blond named Jane Langan, here from New Mexico.

CHANGING TIMES dept.

Other day Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-ND) blasted excessive drinking in Washington. "Per capita consumption of alcoholic liquors in the U. S. is $62.42, but here at the seat of government the per capita consumption is $168.38," he stated.

"From results of some conferences here it is obvious that liquor played a more important role than brains," he added.

Ordinarily this pitch is worth some publicity. But nobody paid any attention to it.

Actually, Burdick doesn't claim to be teetotaler. "On a very hot day he'll take a beer," a friend admits.

UNLESS YOU HAVE

gold-plated stocks, it's risky to chat for long with Perle Mesta.

At a recent party one gabby female cornered Perle and pumped her for almost an hour. Finally a friend of the number one hostess cut in and took the lady aside.

"What you're hearing is no doubt very interesting," he said, "but if you don't watch out it could cost you $1500. That's what Mrs. Mesta receives by the hour as a speaker. And she has been talking to you nearly that long."

Perle, who's strictly a professional now, plans to make about 20 speeches this year. That will gross her a tidy $30,000.

FORE-SIGHT:

Now that Ike is playing golf again they're a little worried out at his Burning Tree course about his electric cart chewing up the fairways. The ground there is soft and mushy in the spring. Someone suggests that large balloons tied on the cart would protect the turf.

An Army aviation expert seriously advances the possibility of moving Ike around the golf course in a small helicopter.

Several unsuccessful attempts have been made to get Mamie interested in golf recently. Idea is that she might play with Ike. But sports don't interest her.

IT'S A SURE THING the British embassy here doesn't begrudge Americans for revelling against their home country some years ago. They welcomed the George Washington birthday holiday with glee.

"We just had a skeleton staff working," says one of the secretaries. "The rest of us ran wild. We're glad to celebrate any holiday, even July Fourth."

ANYBODY who has spent an evening at the Russian embassy will be interested to know they haven't junked Joe Stalin's picture which hangs in a prominent position in the upstairs hallway. "I was sure it wouldn't be here after the going-over the Communist Party Congress gave Stalin in Moscow," said a relieved diplomat at a recent party celebrating Russia's Army-Navy Day.

Seems the favorite meeting place for eating and drinking at Soviet parties has always been directly under Stalin's portrait. "It just wouldn't be like old times if they took him down," said a lady as she reached for the caviar.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Us anti-intellectuals have been stomping and kicking the stall since Senator Eastland, of Mississippi, another illiterate in good standing, reared back and showed what kind of characters the Supreme Court consulted to justify its decision in the school segregation case. All these specimens are intellectuals. The worst of the lot is Prof. Theodore Brameld, who made a speech on "anti-intellectualism in America" in New York last year. He said this was a "serious force" exemplified in the methods of Joe McCarthy and the writings of Westbrook Pegler.

The New York Times, which is "intellectual" by its own vote, gave Brameld a lot of rope and, brother, did he tangle himself and the intellectual Sulzbergers in the loops and coils.

But apparently they learned nothing because only a few weeks ago they printed a long letter from him saying nothing in a profound sonorous way but revealing that he is now "visiting professor of educational philosophy of the University of Puerto Rico." So I phoned New York University where he used to celebrate, a pro-American school where Reds have a hard time although it is not always easy to roust them out. And sure enough, Brameld is on leave from NYU. This seems to mean that he has latched onto the public payroll because Puerto Rico is a federal

Eisenhower Called Correct In His Answer on Nixon

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 2—President Eisenhower followed the right kind of political advice when he avoided a specific commitment as to who the Vice-Presidential nominee should be on the Republican ticket.

The exact words the President used in answering a question at his press conference have not been stressed in many of the dispatches from Washington and radio comments, but they are meaningful. Here is what he said:

"AS A MATTER of fact, I wouldn't mention the Vice-Presidency, in spite of my tremendous admiration for Mr. Nixon, for this reason: I believe it is traditional that the Vice-President is not nominated until after a President is, a Presidential candidate is, nominated; so I think that we will have to wait to see who the Republican convention nominates, and then it will be proper to give an expression on that point."

The reporters pressed their questions and Ike answered again: "I will say nothing more about it. I have said that my admiration and my respect for Vice-President Nixon is unbounded. He has been for me a loyal and dedicated associate, and a successful one. I am very fond of him, but I am going to say no more about it."

No candidate in advance of a nominating convention has ever announced publicly the man he wanted as his running mate.

THE REASONS are based on decades of political experience. First of all, any one who is himself aiming to win the Presidential nomination doesn't venture to antagonize any faction which has a Vice-Presidential candidate in mind. Secondly, to pick a man for Vice-President before the convention votes on the top man means a fight that any sensible political leader will regard as an unnecessary battle. In politics, the trick is to avoid doing the unnecessary and the superfluous where votes in a national convention are at stake.

Few people realize that neither Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, who was chosen to be the Vice-Presidential nominee on the Democratic ticket with Stevenson, nor the Sen. Nixon of California, who became the running mate of Mr. Eisenhower, were prominently mentioned for second place in advance of the convention in 1952.

The fight now to prevent the renomination of Nixon as Vice-President could have ruinous effects inside the Republican party. For, while he wasn't a Taft man in the pre-convention fight of 1952, he is friendly to that wing of the party. Likewise while he didn't exactly become a champion of Sen. McCarthy's cause, he did not attack him. Any abandonment of Nixon would be regarded, therefore, as a slap at both the Taft and McCarthy supporters and also against those Republican organizations which, in the 1954 Congressional campaign, benefited so much from Nixon's active campaigning in more than a dozen Western states. He also has built up quite a following in the so-called "Eisenhower wing" of the party.

THE PRESIDENT has had a better chance to observe Nixon at work than anybody else. He finds Nixon able and versatile and perhaps more familiar with Ike's policies than anybody else on the Eisenhower team. He has been in on all the important conferences on governmental affairs, national and international. The President, to be sure, has been leaning on Nixon for political guidance.

If it isn't to be Nixon, then who? Several names are mentioned. Governor Herter of Massachusetts is an able man. There's a controversy, however, over his eligibility, since, though of American parentage, he was born abroad. Doubtless the Supreme Court would ultimately rule that he is eligible, but it would make quite a rhubarb for the Democrats to play with and there would be doubt raised among the voters for a long time as to who would succeed Ike in case he didn't stay on in the Presidency. The case really would be ruled on till it was actually presented to the Supreme Court. Would the voters "buy a lawsuit?"

Then there's George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury. He would be acceptable to businessmen on every side, and this also means the regular Republican organization men. But the Democrats would have a field day on the subject of Humphrey's former connections with the steel industry. They would also point to the fact that Humphrey is 65 years old now.

THE NAME of former Gov. Dewey has been mentioned, though, he ran twice for President and was defeated. Inside the party the factional scars are still there. The original Taft men would not like it. Besides the New York state situation is full of old controversies that would be raked up.

Mr. Dewey would make a good President but it's a question whether he wouldn't be vulnerable so far as satisfying the Democrats as is Nixon. For Dewey, too, has said some harsh things about the Democrats—and there seems to be, at least among some writers still sympathetic at heart with the Truman cause, a feeling that the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee must be acceptable to the Democrats. Just why, nobody knows.

IN THE FINAL analysis, Nixon, who is 43 years old—almost the same age that Theodore Roosevelt was when as Vice-President he succeeded McKinley—will probably be the man the Republican leaders will come back to and, if the truth were known, Ike really wants him. That's why, though the President didn't permit a formal endorsement, he went out of his way to say he had "tremendous admiration" for the Vice-President. (Reproduction Rights Reserved) convicted under the Smith Act and was affiliated with the American Committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born which was cited as Communist and subversive by Attorney General Clark and redesignated by Attorney General Brownell.

Eastland then dangled other strange specimens whom the court relied on for "information" in a weird consultation or self-acknowledged "authorities" who had no part in the case and no more right to be heard than the most abysmal patriot in all the land. In general their line followed the Communist line and yet Dick Nixon, professing to be anti-Communist, bragged that all this was a beautiful exploit of his Republican party on the eve of national election.

In the southern tier, chapters of the anti-intellectual rabble are fixing to go into the federal district court in some reliable jurisdiction with a petition to declare the Supreme Court's decision unconstitutional. That has never been tried before but they are too ignorant to realize that it can't be done. Heck, maybe it can't.

At this stage of the game, the Times is stuck with its friend, Brameld, and its "director of education," Doc Fine, and I am going around unreasonably swollen with pride in my anti-intellectualism.

The more I read among the intellectuals, the swollener I become. And don't tell me there ain't no such of word because when I use it, they is. Let there be words!

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Mar. 2— I now see no way to cut costs of operating primary or grammar schools. I believe, however, that high schools and colleges will become more efficiently and economically operated. The self-service supermarket will show the way.

Some educational experts are urging cities and towns to spend less on buildings, libraries and equipment and devote more of the total allotment to teachers' salaries. This may be good politics, but it is not in the students' interest. I favor building better schools with better libraries and equipment, but having fewer teachers. Then pay better salaries to these fewer teachers.

THE MOST VITAL field for a "Do-It-Yourself" campaign is that of education. A parent can buy a set of encyclopedias for $100 which contain more information than is contained in the heads of all the teachers in your community. Moreover, the training and discipline of self-education is even more valuable than all the facts that can be learned. Hence, I forecast that the next great movement in education for those above 13 years of age will be teaching students to learn without teachers. I wish that some city would put the managers of their school boards, to begin with, you probably don't know who are on your local school board. If not, send to your superintendent of schools and ask for a list of the members and the business in which each is engaged and the number of children which each has in the schools. You may be surprised to find how poorly chosen these men and women are for this work.

In too many cities, school board members are interested in getting income for themselves or friends as doctors, builders, insurance agents, bank officials, storekeepers, etc. These school committee members naturally take the advice of the superintendent of schools who is an honest man but is guided by the colleges which determine what shall be taught and how. The superintendents and school principals are too often judged by the number of students they pass along to colleges, and promoted accordingly. They are fine men and women; they deserve much better pay, but they have very little freedom.

I HAVE JUST BEEN reading reports of the recent Conference on Education held in Washington. The great demand there was for federal aid without federal interference. Very little discussion was devoted to what should be taught our children and how. No time was given to discussing lowering the cost of raising the efficiency of schools. The great need today is to tackle the educational problem as we have TB and polio and cancer.

I have in mind a family of four grown-up brothers all of whom attended the same schools and had the same teachers. Yet three of the men are today useful in their communities and hold good positions. One of the boys was a "delinquent" and is now a ne'er-do-well supported by the first three. The question the mother asks is: Did the schools have any effect on the character or "life" of these boys?

The books most popular with the youth of today are books on "space travel"—that is, going to other planets. It is said that Washington is having more inquiries about the earth "satellites" which are to be released than about any other subject. Why is it that young people are so much more interested in other worlds than in learning about their own world and how to live in it? Something is wrong somewhere. Education should teach how to live. It should help parents mold character.

TEACHERS SHOULD be spiritually minded in order to be efficient. Although they should be paid better salaries, yet this salary should not be based upon the degrees which they have received. Looking back over my school life, it was the teachers with the biggest hearts who won my interest and awakened a desire for knowledge and service.

To get back to my main appeal: One sure way to increase the efficiency and reduce the cost of our schools and truly help our children is to teach children where to find their own answers to questions and awaken in them a desire for more knowledge. We need teachers born with a love for children and trained as helpful librarians.

New Paltz Church Notes

New Paltz, March 1—Baptisms recorded in the official record of New Paltz Methodist Parish during the last month include: Douglas Terwilliger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Terwilliger of town of Lloyd; John Richard Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris, of Horsenden road; Charles Morris Baumgartner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baumgartner, of Kearny, N. J.; Raymond Roy, Donald Lawrence, Charles A. III, Charlotte Phoebe, and George Pendell Romer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Romer, Jr., of North Putt Corners road. Also receiving the Sacrament of Baptism was Mrs. Charles Romer, Jr. The Rev. Willett R. Porter, Jr., pastor, officiated at the baptisms.

The third in a series of Sunday evening Lenten film services will be held in New Paltz Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30.

"Rolling Stones" is the title of this Sunday's film and deals with the question of the church's part in a migrant labor situation. According to the pastor, "This film will be of significant local interest because of its application to our own migrant labor concern in and around New Paltz." Therefore the public is cordially invited to this and all other of the Sunday evening Lenten film services held in the Methodist Church.

A special Lenten study group sponsored by the WSCS for the entire church and community meets Wednesday in the Methodist parsonage, 3 Grove street, at 1:30. The leader is Mrs. Willett Porter and the topic for March 7 will be Brother Lawrence's, "The Practice of the Presence of God." All are welcome.

The administration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion will take place Sunday in the three churches of the New Paltz Methodist Parish. The Rev. Willett Porter will officiate at services in Lloyd, New Paltz, and Plutarch, at 9 a. m., 11 a. m., and 2 p. m., respectively. Local preachers, Roger Brown and Carl Mills will assist.

A portion of the morning worship service in Lloyd Methodist Church this Sunday will be given over to the observance of National 4-H Club Week by the local 4-H Club. Local members will take part in the 9 a. m. service as will Mrs. Thurlow Weed, Jr., the counselor of the group.

The monthly meeting of Ladies' Aid Society of Lloyd Methodist Church will take place on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Lila Newberry, 19 Noxon street, Paugkeepsie. Mrs. Fred Bragg is president of the group.

The fourth annual Methodist men's area rally will be held Tuesday in Walden Methodist Church. Cars will leave New Paltz Church at 6:30 that evening. Reservations for the rally should be made through R. Francis Hasbrouck, Roger Brown, Carl Mills, or Walter Roe. A ham dinner will be served. The charge will be nominal. All men of the parish are urged to consider going.

Methodist choirs meet for rehearsal in New Paltz on Thursday, 7:45 p. m., under the direction of Robert Brearey, and in Plutarch on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., under the direction of Mrs. George Traver. Mrs. E. C. Trautwein and George Meyer are organists.

The Sunday school staff of New Paltz Church meets Friday evening, March 9.

Woman's Society meets in the New Paltz Church at 8 p. m., Wednesday and the pastor's church membership class meets on Thursday at 4 p. m.

Soviets Report 3.5 Million Cases Of Heart Disease

Moscow, March 2 (P)—The Soviet Union reports 3½ million persons suffering from heart disease.

This amounts to 43 per cent of all invalids in the U.S.S.R., Minister of Health Maria D. Kovrigina Asserts. She gave no figures on the incidence of cancer but said Soviet death rates from heart disease and cancer are lower than those in the majority of capitalist states.

The main victims of heart disease are described as middle-aged intellectuals and executives. Fifty-five per cent of the victims, she announced, are between 40 and 59 years old and 30 per cent 60 or over.

The report said heart ailments can best be prevented by "reduction of the working day, combining rest with work, balancing diet and participation in athletic activities."

Miss Kovrigina called for two vacations a year for suffers from heart disease and workers over 60. She recommended maternity leaves be extended from the present 77 days to 112 days.

A Chrysler 300-B swept the 1956 NASCAR Speed Trial Championships at Daytona Beach with a sand-scorching "Flying Mile" average speed of 139.373 m.p.h. Shocked competition watched as Chrysler barreled down the beach . . . topping last year's stock car record (also set by Chrysler) by 12 m.p.h.

Head the new Chrysler Windsor V-8 in any direction and start making comparisons. The only cars you can compare it with are the other luxury cars . . . because that's what the Chrysler Windsor is. But you can own this car for the cost of a medium-priced car! And at this price, the only year-ahead car simply defies comparison.

Take the way it handles in city traffic. Something quite strange and wonderful happens. Instead of feeling tense, you're utterly relaxed—thanks to Chrysler's Full-time Power Steering and a host of brand new Chrysler exclusives. You're guiding a big, powerful car that responds like a mind reader.

Your Chrysler handles every traffic situation with liquid deftness, beautifully balanced between the forward thrust of its mighty airplane-type engine and the most powerful brakes in the industry. This car flows!

Yet, if you can afford any car in the medium-priced field, you can afford to step up to a Chrysler Windsor V-8. Come in and drive this car. Compare its year-ahead new car features with the other leading cars in its price class. We think you'll agree that it looks and acts like a car that costs $1,000 more than it does!

Governor Says Merit System Is Gaining Ground

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today said the merit system has "gained ground" during his administration.

The Democratic governor told the State Civil Service Assn. last night that only 837 of the state's 80,000 employees were in the exempt class, subject to political change.

ADDRESSING 450 delegates attending the association's spring meeting, Harriman said the competitive class of civil service employees comprised 70 per cent of the state service.

Harriman reported also that he had recommended legislation "to see that a pay raise goes with every promotion."

He said he was "surprised to find that at the present time an employee who is promoted may get only a better title—but no extra pay. This seems to me ridiculous."

The governor expressed hope that the fiscal committees of the Republican-controlled Legislature would reconsider their removal from his budget of $350,000 for increasing travel allowances.

YOU KNOW that employees who travel for the state often lose money and that isn't fair," he declared.

Harriman expressed confidence that the Legislature would pass his $28,300,000 program for a general raise in salaries and cutting the hours of many state employees.

The governor has proposed a four-hour cut in the schedule of 33,000 employees working 44 and 48-hour weeks. Most employees would have a $300 boost in their base annual pay.

He said that all workers could not be reduced to 40 hours at once. "Just to put the four-hour cut into effect we will need approximately 3,700 more employees and it will be difficult to recruit the kind of personnel needed," he said.

Most of those affected work in state institutions.

Adventist Church Group to Make Calls on Saturday

Members of Seventh-day Adventist Church, 30 Pearl street, will spend from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. Saturday making friendly calls upon the homes of the community, in an effort to encourage better church attendance.

Andrew Seaman, home missionary leader for the church, in making the announcement said that the calls would be brief with just a word of Christian greeting. If householders wish, he said, callers will step in for a word of prayer.

THE PROGRAM of visiting is aimed at reaching the unchurched in the belief that a family that unites in worship is more closely knit than a home without God, he said. The denomination is cooperating with the Religion in American Life program, which urges, "Give them a faith to live by."

Sabbath school of the church will begin at 1:45 p. m. with lesson entitled, "God's Elect, a Light to the Gentiles." The regular mission period following the lesson study will feature this week a few of the highlights from the recent Dorcas welfare workshop held in South Lancaster, Mass.

Church will commence at 3 p. m. The title of the Rev. Jamile Jacobs' sermon is, "God's Standard of Right."

A special board meeting will meet after church.

Dorcas Society will meet in the church basement at 7 p. m. Monday.

Prayer meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Missionary volunteers will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m.

New Drug Seen As Helpful in Rheumatic Cases

Chicago, March 2 (AP)—Several groups of medical investigators reported today that a new muscle relaxant in the experimental stage shows promise of bringing comfort in several diseases.

The drug, known as Zoxalolamine (flexin), was tried on patients suffering from spasticity, various rheumatic and arthritic diseases, diseases of the brain and spinal cord, and for children with cerebral palsy.

Dr. William Amols of New York said the drug has a longer period of action, greater effectiveness when given orally, and causes fewer side effects than older relaxants. He added that the drug's principle role seems to be to aid in nursing care, increase the comfort of the patient, and aid the work of the physical therapist.

Drs. Richard T. Smith, Kenneth M. Kron, William P. Peak and Irwin F. Hermann of Philadelphia, said the drug was especially effective in relieving stiffness and aching from rheumatic diseases. They reported excellent to good results in 85 of 100 patients.

Various degrees of benefit also were reported for the other conditions in which the drug was used.

The reports were published in the Journal of the American Medical Assn.

Safecracker Makes FBI List Second Time

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Nick George Montos, expert safecracker and alumnus of the FBI's list of "10 most wanted men," achieved today the dubious distinction of getting on that list a second time.

The FBI said it never has happened before, but said that Montos, 39, is almost as skilled at prison-breaks as he is at taking safes apart.

He has a 25-year-old criminal record, dating back to probation at 14 at Tampa, Fla., reportedly his home city.

Montos has five prison breaks to his credit. The latest occurred Jan. 10 when he and a life-termer escaped from the Mississippi State Penitentiary by sawing through a locked door and scaling a barbed wire fence.

Montos was serving a seven-year sentence for one of the dozens of burglaries with which he has been charged.

He was previously on the "Most Wanted" list in 1954. Two FBI agents spotted him in an automobile at Westchester, Ill., and picked him up.

Montos has served time in prisons and reformatories in Ohio, Virginia, Alabama and Illinois.

Saugerties Publisher Receives State Post

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today announced the appointment of Orin Lehman of (530 Park avenue) New York city as chairman of the governor's committee on "employ the physically handicapped."

Lehman is publisher of the Saugerties Daily Post and a group of weekly newspapers in Greene and Ulster counties. He succeeds John L. Train of Utica, who has resigned. The position pays no salary.

Lehman is the founder of Just One Break Inc., a philanthropic organization devoted to finding employment for the physically handicapped. He is vice president of Abilities Inc., a Long Island industry manned by physically disabled persons.

Briefly Told

Utica, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Airman 1/C Donald J. Iannone, 19, of Utica, was injured fatally today when he fell from a radio tower on which he had been working at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Iannone, were notified by the air force. He had been in service since 1953.

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—The state reports that the number of arrests on major crime charges during January rose 14.8 per cent over the previous month to 3,280. This was 10.4 per cent higher than in January, 1955.

Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh said yesterday all of the increase was in New York city and the larger cities upstate while the number declined slightly in smaller cities and rural areas.

Cortland, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Up to March 1, it has been the snowiest winter ever recorded here.

The snowfall for November through February was 84.4 inches, compared with the previous record of 82.8 inches in the four months ending March 1, 1945. The full season's accumulation that year was a record 92.4 inches. It kept coming through May.

Redfield, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Two buildings and all the machinery of a sawmill were destroyed last night by fire. Dean Williams, the owner of the mill in this community near Oswego, estimated the loss at $75,000.

The cause was not determined.

Coast Guard Rescues Fishing Boat Crew

Montauk Point, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—A coast guard cutter, searching yesterday for a fishing vessel missing since last Saturday, rescued the four-man crew of another fishing boat about 90 miles south of here in the wind-whipped Atlantic.

Answering a radio message for help, the cutter Yeaton arrived at the scene to take aboard four Fall River, Mass., men. Their 83-foot commercial vessel, the Sea King, had already gone down.

The Yeaton took the four to New London, Conn. The men, described as in good condition, were identified as: Capt. Jose Branco, Julio Cruz, Wilfred Legere, and Francis Casqueira.

The coast guard said the Sea King operated out of New Bedford, Mass. The cause of the vessel's sinking was not known, nor could shore coast guard stations say whether the men were picked up out of the water or had been drifting in a dory.

The fishing boat Capt. Bill Orth, with four men aboard, last was sighted Saturday night by another fishing vessel some 90 miles east of Atlantic City, N. J.

Snowslide Kills 103

Seoul, March 2 (AP)—A thundering snowslide that roared down the mountainous slopes of Korea's famed Punchbowl battleground crushed 83 South Korean army barracks and left at least 103 South Koreans dead or missing. No Americans were in the area, 100 miles northeast of Seoul. Officers just back from the isolated Korean war front placed the toll at 78 known dead, 25 missing and believed dead and 54 injured. Officials expected the death toll to rise when communications cleared up. Rescuers were encountering great difficulty in reaching the scene. Snow was piled up to 19 feet deep from a heavy three-day fall.

Dr. F. B. Baldwin To Address Area Dairymen Council

Dr. F. Bruce Baldwin, Jr., vice president of Abbots Dairies, Inc., Philadelphia, will be the principal speaker at the sixth annual meeting of the Dairy Council of the Mid-Hudson Area to be held at the Poughkeepsie Grange Hall, Route 55, March 13 at 6:45 p. m.

Affiliated with the National Dairy Council, the area group is supported by producers and dealers in Dutchess county and the Newburgh and Kingston areas. A non-profit health education organization, it works with schools, professional groups, and community leaders to promote better nutrition habits and adequate use of milk and milk products in the Mid-Hudson area.

THE GUEST speaker holds degrees from Penn State and the University of Minnesota. He has served as vice president of two Philadelphia dairies. Dr. Baldwin is also a past president of the board of directors of Milk Industry Foundation and is vice chairman of the Dairy Industry Committee. He is also a past president of the board of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers, Inc., and the Milk Distributors Association of the Philadelphia Area.

Morris Yates, president of the area dairy council, will preside at the meeting and will also introduce Dr. Harold Monson, superintendent of Newburgh schools who will speak on "School Participation in the Special School Milk Program." Miss Esther Schisla, R.N., director of Public Health Nursing, Ulster County Health Department, will speak on "The Need for Community Nutrition Education." Carl Poit, Poughkeepsie High School senior, will discuss "Milk and the Teenagers."

Tickets are available locally from Harry Beatty, Beatty's Dairy, and George Silkworth, Babcock's Dairy. Mr. Silkworth has been a member of the board of directors since the dairy council was organized. Reservations close March 8.

Doris K. Gearhart is executive director of the council.

Overruff Can Lose a Trick

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When a defender is given the chance to overruff, it isn't always wise for him to do so. If he has patience, he may get two tricks later instead of just one. An unusual illustration of this principle is given in today's hand.

West opened the king of spades, and East signalled for a continuation by playing the nine. West obediently continued with the ace of spades, and East completed his signal by dropping his six of spades.

The "high-low" in spades asked West to keep up the good work, so he continued with the jack of spades. Declarer ruffed in dummy with the jack of hearts, and East discarded instead of overruffing.

Now East was bound to make two trump tricks. South eventually finessed the queen of hearts, and East took the king. East returned his low trump to dummy's ace, after which the ten of hearts was good for the setting trick.

Had East overruffed when the third spade was led, South would have made his contract. East would have made his king of hearts then instead of later, but he would not have won a trick with the ten. South would win any return and would draw the rest of the trumps with dummy's ace and queen.

If you are given the chance to overruff, one simple test will usually tell you whether or not to do so. If your trump is otherwise worthless, take your trick. If your trump will be good for a trick later on, it will often be wise to let the trick go.

Business Likely to Become An Issue in '56 Campaign

New York, March 2 (AP)—Business rather expects to be one of the many issues in the presidential campaign.

The enthusiasm voiced by many top industrialists and financiers over President Eisenhower's decision to run again sounded mostly one note: It would bolster business confidence.

The business leaders appeared to accept the belief widely held—rightly or wrongly—that this is a "businessman's administration."

OPPOSITION of the administration may be expected to step up their charges—right or wrong—that Washington's policies of the last three years have tended to favor the interests of business, to make "big business" bigger and to make competition rough for small business.

Both points of view will be exaggerated in the political campaign. But no matter how in-temperate the claims or the charges may become, "business" and its place in the nation's well-being seem almost sure to become one of the issues.

Business has been increasingly sensitive about its position and about public opinion in the last 20 years or so. Particularly since World War 2, business leaders have tried hard to "get the business story across"—to make the rank and file of the citizenry understand that healthy business meant a generally healthy nation, that business wasn't a wholly selfish thing but had the general welfare at heart, too.

NEW TERMS for capitalism were coined: "Private Enterprise" or the "Incentive System." Speakers from the world of business have stressed the virtues and advantages of the system from one end of the land to the other.

And many business leaders feel that they have made considerable progress in laying the old bogies about robber barons and about financiers whose motto was "the public be damned."

Business leaders realize that the present business setup was put for a test when several top leaders of business moved into leading posts in Washington three years ago and announced that the climate for business would be favorable.

Industrialists are quick to give to this a good deal of the credit for the good times that blossomed last year—doubters think that many other factors had equal or greater weight in turning the recession into a boom.

INDUSTRIALISTS who believe that the prosperous times show what business can do when given a freer hand fret lest something jolt confidence, turn the economy downward and sour the electorate.

Most of them realize all the other factors making for upward or downward turns of the business cycle. Most know that other issues will be hotly debated during the political campaign and may capture more of the public's interest.

But many expect that as the campaign progresses there will be debates on which is better for the nation, an attitude of "be kind to business" or one of "police business closely lest it grab too big a share."

BUSINESSMEN, with few exceptions, believe that their post-war record has been good, that their present activities are more helpful than not, that their plans for future growth of industry and trade are the nation's best bet for good times in the years ahead. But they also know that not everyone agrees with them, and in this campaign, perhaps more than in most, they expect to be under scrutiny.

State Would Raise Branch Bank Charge

Albany, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—The State Banking Department wants to increase fees charged in connection with the opening of branch banks.

George A. Mooney, superintendent of banks, says the move is an effort to slow the growth of branches.

Bills to these ends have been introduced in the Legislature. They would increase the annual fee for licensed lenders from $100 to $250, the initial fee for investigating an application for permission to open a branch from $50 to $150 and the investigation fee for additional licenses from $50 to $75.

Mooney declared: "The number of locations sought is far greater than the public need and convenience required. In adopting stricter requirements relative to branch applications, it is hoped that bankers will become more reasonable in submitting such applications."

City Totem

Victoria, B. C. (AP)—This Vancouver Island city is planning on having the world's tallest totem pole in its backyard. A 150-foot cedar tree from a forest north of here is to be used. An Indian father-and-son team have the carving job. The finished totem will be erected on a prominent headland overlooking the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

India's Numbers Racket Roots From New York

New Delhi, India, March 2 (AP)—India's flourishing numbers racket has its roots in New York. It is known as Satta and it pays off on New York cotton futures quotations.

It attracts millions of Indians daily.

Satta was born decades ago in Bombay, with bookmakers there taking bets on what would be the closing quotation for cotton futures on the New York exchange.

SOON THE IDEA spread across India. It was simple gambling, even the illiterate peasant could try to strike it rich.

In rural India the numbers game has seen farmers betting a pound or two of rice, with the bookies promising to pay "in kind." The odds are generally $1.

In the big cities the betting is strictly for cash. Most bets are just a few annas (cents), although sometimes wagers are in thousands of rupees. Gamblers eagerly watch the "late news" columns of Indian papers for the quotations.

Satta players also have their superstitions. A popular comic strip in a daily paper, according to one belief, contains tips on winning numbers; the tips, it is thought, reside in such signs as the numbers of hairs on the bald head of the strip's leading character.

ANOTHER COMMON belief, reminiscent of talk about the American numbers game, is that bookies pay bribes to the police in order to keep in business. Police officials in Bombay, Madras and other Satta centers deny any such corruption.

Delhi state legislators are demanding more effective police attacks on Satta. Madras lawmakers have boosted the fines for gambling, which is illegal, to deter both bookies and their clients. The Madras fine now approaches $200. In Bombay the penalty remains $1.

What has bothered the Satta players most was the news from New York late last year that the U. S. Department of Agriculture had accused a New York brokerage firm of rigging cotton futures quotations. The department said the firm manipulated cotton futures contracts to make prices agree with figures previously cabled to persons in Madras and Bombay.

Brando Goes To Japan To Portray Okinawan

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, March 2 (AP)—This week that vastly independent young man, Marlon Brando, embarks on a new field adventure that will take him to Japan to play a wily Okinawan.

Last year at this time, Brando was about to win his long-awaited, long-desired Academy Award. He remarked that the film he wanted to do next—was then making a musical, "Guys and Dolls"—was the John Patrick comedy, "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Whatever Marlon wants, Marlon gets. MGM was only too happy to meet his terms in order to sign him for the role

David Wayne created on Broadway (later played by Burgess Meredith and Larry Parks on the road.)

I CAUGHT up with Brando before his departure for the Orient. He was lunching at Paramount with George Englund, handsome young producer for Brando's Pennebaker productions.

I'm very happy about "Teahouse," Brando remarked. "We've got a fine cast, Delbert Mann is a great director, and filming it in Japan should give added value."

It's a very funny story. But more than that, it says something. It has a lesson in internationality which I think is valuable today. It should help in promoting understanding."

The picture will be filmed at Kyoto, Nara and other locations.

Others in the cast include Glenn Ford as the bewildered occupation officer, Louis Calhern as his superior, Eddie Albert as the psychiatrist and Harry Morgan as the sergeant.

FILMING WILL start at Nara in mid-April to take advantage of the cherry blossoms. Interiors will be made at the Daiichi studios. About 40 crewmen from Hollywood are being sent for the production.

Critics have hailed Japanese films for having the most beautiful color in the world. Brando explained that a Japanese cameraman could not be used on "Teahouse" because they are not familiar with Hollywood-type lighting. The Japanese negative, he said, is such that only 60 prints can be made from it, whereas American films require several hundred prints.

The actor said MGM artists have devised a fabulous makeup to orientalize him for the picture. "I wear patches on the eyelids, face lines and a wig," he said. "It's really great. I don't think that the makeup men get the credit they deserve for their contribution to pictures."

UNLIKE SOME young stars who scorn even a light coating of pancake makeup, Brando has often favored makeups. In "Viva Zapata," he had his eyes taped up and nostril flared. He employed a plastic nose bridge to give himself a more Napoleonic profile in "Desiree." And in his Oscar-winning, "On the Waterfront," he simulated scars about the eyes to portray the former prize fighter. After "Teahouse," Brando hopes to activate his Pennebaker Productions, which is named after his late mother's maiden name. He had planned to film a western, "To Tame a Land," but the script wasn't ready in time before "Teahouse." Producer Englund reports that they have several exciting projects planned.

Chased One Place, Holds Up Second

Syracuse, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—Police searched today for a gunman who held up a grocery store about 15 minutes after he had been chased from another store five blocks away.

Detectives said Thomas Stephens, the first grocer, reached for his gun last night when he heard the man say "this is a stickup" to his wife, Matilda.

Stephens said he fired four shots without aiming and the man fled.

Peter Kambas, operator of the second store, did not resist. He opened the cash register and the hoodlum grabbed $75.

The gunman wore cowboy boots and ordered soft drinks in each store. He was not hit by the bullets.

The number of U. S. farm holdings of 1,000 or more acres has increased 80 per cent in the last 35 years.

Claire Bloom, British Actress, Popular on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

New York, March 2 (AP)—Within a single week NBC-TV is bidding for top dramatic honors with two outstanding dramas. A beautiful, brown-eyed English actress, Claire Bloom, plays the feminine lead in both.

Next Monday "Producers' Showcase" (8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time) presents a 90-minute color and black and white production of George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," starring Miss Bloom as Cleopatra.

On Sunday, March 11, NBC-TV will present the American premiere of Sir Laurence Olivier's British film, "Richard III" (at 2:30 p. m., EST.) Miss Bloom plays Lady Anne to Olivier's portrayal of the wicked hunchback Richard in this three-hour color and black-and-white film.

IN SHORT, Miss Bloom is a young lady of great interest to the television audience these days. But if anybody hopes to learn anything here about her romantic interests (none), any personal eccentricities (none), any headline-making views (none), they're doomed to disappointment.

After spending a pleasant hour with her, I can positively report only these things: She is beautiful, restrained to the point of shyness, and wholly dedicated to acting and the theatre. Having seen her play Roxanne in NBC-TV's production of "Cyrano De Bergerac" last fall, I also can report she's a superb actress.

Born in London in 1931, Miss Bloom was evacuated to this country during World War 2 and then returned to England. Since she was 15 the theatre and movies have been her life. She played the role of the ballet dancer in Charlie Chaplin's last film, "Limelight," and plays the feminine lead in "Alexander the Great," a widely publicized British film which has not yet been released in this country. Her only live appearance before an American audience was in "Cyrano."

COMPARISONS of the mediums of TV, stage and movies seem rather futile to Miss Bloom. The acting is the thing. When it's good, the medium makes little difference. When it's good, the personal life of the actress makes little difference.

Come to think of it, Miss Bloom has a worthy point.

One thing she did say: "I never read any reviews of one of my performances unless someone else has read them first and tells me they're good."

Since, as far as anybody around here knows, she has received only favorable reviews in this country, she should have plenty of reading.

OTHER THINGS to see this Sunday on TV (all times Eastern):

Sen. William F. Knowland will "Face the Nation" at 3 p. m., on CBS. "Face the Nation" also is heard on CBS radio.

"Wide World World" on NBC will take the audience on a country-wide pictorial study of an American child's way of life, from birth to maturity, at 4 p. m.

"Omnibus" (CBS) presents the third section of its three-part study of the United States Congress.

Carpino-Cercone Nuptials Are Held

Miss Joan Marie Carpino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carpino, 79 West O'Reilly street, became the bride of Paul A. Cercone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amadeo Cercone, 622 Broadway, Sunday, Feb. 26 at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly performed the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono was at the organ and Miss Patricia Keefe sang several selections.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace posed over blush pink satin. The princess styled gown was fashioned with a bateau neckline and long sleeves tapering to a point at the wrist. Her full skirt was waltz length and she wore a bridal cap of lace trimmed with iridescent and seed pearls to which was attached her blush pink French illusion veil, chapel length. She carried white roses on a blush pink prayer book.

Miss Virginia Boice of 188 Foxhall avenue was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of pure silk, in periwinkle blue, fashioned with a shirred and molded long torso, Italian neckline and a bouffant waltz length skirt. She wore a braided crown with a matching flirtation veil. Miss Boice carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Edward Cercone was best man for his brother.

A reception was held at the home of the bride.

Miss Carpino is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed as a service assistant for the New York Telephone Company.

The bridegroom attended Kingston High School and served with the U. S. Army for two years. He is now employed by the Villanova Restaurant.

For her wedding trip to New York city, the bride chose a mint green suit with a grey topper.

The couple will reside at 152 St. James street.

DR. GAGANVIHARI L. MEHTA

Indian Ambassador to the United States Will Speak at New Paltz Teachers College

The Indian Ambassador to the United States and Mexico, Dr. Gaganvihari L. Mehta, will be guest speaker at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, Thursday, March 8, at 8 p. m. in the college auditorium for a college convocation. It was announced this week by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college. The topic of Ambassador Mehta's address will be "India's Policy in International Affairs."

The public is invited to hear the address by the Ambassador and to attend a reception to be given in his honor in the College Union Building immediately following. There will be no admission charge for the tickets which may be obtained in the college bookstore or by calling the college.

The convocation will take the place of the regular series of seminars being held each Thursday night on the campus. Ambassador Mehta will also appear on a television program sponsored by the World Affairs Council over Station WRBG, Channel 6, Schenectady, Friday, March 9, at 10:30 a. m. This will be the last of a series of 13 television programs entitled, "India, Asian Neighbor" which began Dec. 16, 1955. In addition to the ambassador, the Indian Embassy in Washington has cooperated by sending several other Indian officials to appear on the programs.

The seminars have covered a wide range of topics dealing with the life of Indian people today, their institutions, their leaders, and their government. The purpose, according to President Haggerty, has been to provide an opportunity for Americans to learn more about India.

The ambassador was originally scheduled to appear on the New Paltz campus February 10 but urgent business in Washington forced him to cancel the address.

Dr. Mehta has had a distinguished career in business and public life. He was educated at the University of Bombay and the London School of Economics, served for a time as assistant editor of the Bombay Chronicle, and spent many years as an executive officer of the Scindia Steam Navigation Company, Ltd. At the attainment of Indian Independence in 1947 he was appointed president of the tariff board under the National Government of India and in 1950 became a member of the National Planning Commission. He was appointed to his present position in 1952.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

SLACKS WHILE TRAVELING

The first letter in my mail today is from a young woman who writes as follows: "My girl friend and I are going to drive to Florida soon for a two-week vacation. We will take turns driving and we thought it would be a good idea to wear slacks in the car as they will be more comfortable than dresses and will not wrinkle so easily. Our problem, however, is this: We will, of course, have to stop along the road for our meals and we were wondering if it would be proper for us to go into a restaurant dressed in slacks?"

It depends entirely upon the restaurant. You would not go into the dining room of a hotel or a first-class restaurant dressed in slacks. But it would be quite all right to go into a cafeteria or other informal type of restaurant dressed in these clothes.

Bride and Groom Give Own Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong for the bride and groom to give their own wedding when the bride's parents are still living? A friend of mine who is in her mid-forties is going to be married soon to a man fifty years of age. This is a first marriage for both. They are going to have a small wedding and would like to have a reception afterwards. They wish to give the wedding themselves but there has been some criticism of this. What is your opinion?

Answer: It is entirely proper for a bride and groom of mature years to give their own wedding.

For Her Recital

Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter is giving her senior piano recital soon and we would like to know if there is anything special that we, her parents, should do for her at the recital. Should we present her with flowers or a gift?

Answer: A basket of flowers would be very nice and practical on this occasion.

Details for a home wedding and description of flowers, clothes and ceremony are included in leaflet E18, "Today's Typical Weddings." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Meany Invited to Testify

New York, March 2 (AP)—CIO President George Meany has been invited by Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver to testify before a grand jury about "corruption on the docks." Silver extended the invitation yesterday after, he said, reading of Meany's concern about waterfront corruption. Meany has been quoted as saying he felt the "failure" of public prosecutors to end dock corruption had frustrated organized labor's battle against alleged underworld influences in the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA).

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON
VACUUM

When contemplating the picture as to how our resource $'s and official stupidity since 1940 have played into the hands of the "Reds," it is plain that it has created a vacuum, and the downfall of three great nations — Germany, Japan and Britain. While the British Empire has not been conquered, it is no longer an Empire.

Mr. Hutton

The "Reds" have moved into these countries, also France and Italy, and learned how to use their own techniques, as they gained power.

Now our task is to bring Germany and Japan back to the American pasture as military powers, as quickly as possible, to fill this appalling vacuum. Nor should we forget for a moment that there is an ancient force loose once again in the world — the raging barbarians out to loot civilization.

It simply seems impossible that this great land could be conquered. But looking back, even a few hundred years, name another country that has not been conquered. This is no time to let our guard down.

Our people and our Government must realize that we cannot continue this vast dissipation of our resources all over the globe. In the last ten years, ending mid-1954, we have given to foreign lands over $67 billions. Figures documented by HUMAN EVENTS, Jan. 1, 1955.

If we had spent these $67 billions here at home, plus Canada and the Western Hemisphere, we would be invulnerable. How many "friends" have we got in Europe or Asia who will stand up and fight when the heat is on?

Neighbor, ask France where the "Reds" have recently won 52 seats in the National Assembly, after all the money we sent her.

Thayer Named Acting Mayor For Ellenville

It has been announced by Mayor Eugene Glusker, Ellenville, that Harry M. Thayer, a village trustee, will serve as acting mayor in the future.

Previously, William E. Graham held the post, whenever the mayor was away, but his death this week called for a new designation.

Mayor Glusker expressed deep sorrow over the death of Trustee Graham, when he made his announcement about Mr. Thayer. Publisher of the Ellenville Press, Mr. Thayer has been chosen by the Democratic party as candidate to succeed himself as trustee at the election in April.

The late Mr. Graham's term as trustee would not have expired for another year.

Two trustees and a justice of the peace are to be elected in April.

Game With Child Isn't Like Game of Making a Living

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

How comforted he'd be to know that Daddy trusts him with what he really feels—and sees no harm in forthrightness.

Perhaps his father has not spoken the relieving words because he's got Stewart mixed up with people in his office.

All day, every day, he spends his energy gratifying their wishes. It's how he earns his living.

If he doesn't watch it, the momentum of his office obligation to serve only other people's wants can carry right over into his living room. And the relieving idea that Stewart might respect his wish to digest his dinner in peace just won't occur to him.

Perhaps I'd better remind him that, unlike his client and vice president, his child loves him.

English Words Creeping In Worry Frenchmen

Paris, March 2 (AP)—Guardians of the French language are frowning their brows over the number of English words that keep sneaking into the Frenchman's vocabulary.

Reaching for an English word himself, a writer for the respected morning newspaper Le Figaro blamed it all on "snobism."

Such terms as cocktail, scooter, football, pool, score, mixer, surprise party, and snack bar are well known to the average Frenchman. French cuisine is being invaded by sandwiches, hotdogs, hamburgers, and cheeseburgers. They are readily available, often with French improvements.

In making the jump from the United States or Britain, English words sometimes get pulled a little out of shape.

Cocktail is pronounced by the French something like "coke-tail." And a cocktail in France is a party as well as something to drink. But stay away from the French version of the Martini-coke-tail.

A sur-preeze part-ee in France isn't an occasion where you barge in on someone unexpectedly and shout "happy birthday."

A surprise party over here is more like a potluck affair in America, where the guests bring along something to eat or drink.

A group of French language watchdogs, known as the "Consultative Committee of the Scientific Language," recently renewed its opposition to foreign terms.

Too often, the committee said, the words are badly defined when adopted by the French, and anyway "our language is rich enough to respond to all the needs of expression."

Progress Report Due March 5 on Chambers School

A "progress report" will be presented at the next meeting of the school board of the Chambers School, District No. 8, town of Ulster, which will be held at the firehouse on Monday, March 5, at 7:30 p. m.

President Edward F. Dingeldey said the meeting will be devoted to information of the board members and the residents of the area as to "where we are and how far we have gone" in the construction program of the new school building. The program of the district will be discussed and a report will be made as to how the program of construction is progressing, what facilities are being provided and the progress being made in the hiring of a teaching staff. There will also be a report on what decisions have been made as to furnishings and fixtures for the new building which is expected to be ready for occupancy in the fall.

Consolidation will be discussed and a report made as to what it may mean to the district, if and when it is adopted. The Greater Kingston Area School District has been under discussion and advisement for some time. A discussion will also be held on the Heald Commission report and general information pertinent to the school will be touched upon at the meeting.

Approved Experiment

February 28, 1956

Editor, The Freeman

I wish to bring to your attention the fact that the Medical Society of the County of Ulster has NOT ever endorsed mass fluoridation. The only thing the Medical Society of the County of Ulster has done was to approve continuation of the experiment between Kingston and Newburgh.

The article in the paper on Monday night was therefore erroneous in stating that the Medical Society had approved this project and also was erroneous in that it omitted the name of the best speaker of the evening, Mr. Robert Stapleton of Ellenville, New York.

Yours truly,

No Bookworms Among Seniors In Scholar Group

Washington, March 2 (AP)—You won't find any stay-at-home bookworms among the high school seniors who arrived here yesterday to compete for $11,000 in Westinghouse science scholarships.

Athletes and extra-curricular youngsters dominate the 40 finalists in the annual nationwide "science talent search" conducted by the science clubs of America.

For example, among the 32 boys and girls who have survived a competition originally involving more than 3,300 high school seniors, they are:

Gary B. Anderson of Tahoe City, Calif., who has won awards for skiing as well as mathematics;

John B. Clark of Sycamore, Ill., a four-sport participant—and also a French horn player in his school band—who has synthesized an improved plastic;

Rosemarie Och of Madison, N. J., a girl cheerleader who has also built a simplified mechanical computer;

John H. Campbell of Minneapolis, who has participated in track competition, but more recently has become a fast man at studying "Otoliths" the earbones of fossil fish;

Carolyn M. Hansen of Kenmore, N. Y., a would-be biologist who parlayed her experience as a baby sitter into organizing her own nursery school.

The 40 finalists list among their hobbies blood typing, insect collecting, trumpet playing, amateur radio and fabricating rockets.

Why We Say--

SWASTIKA

GOOD LUCK: The Swastika actually had little meaning to the Germans. It came from the ancient Sanskrit and was a good luck symbol. The four points of it represented the four winds which brought good or bad weather for farmers.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York (AP)—There are people who do want to do it in this world—whatever there's to be done—and there are those who don't care.

John R. Crooks always did what was to be done. He always smiled, but he also held behind his smile the fierce pride all true craftsmen have in a job they love.

Last summer, after 52 years in the same old salt mine, Johnny Crooks was put out to pasture on a well-earned pension. But, like many another retired man, he became desperately unhappy. He cured himself by going out and taking a job in a new field.

"The best remedy for retirement sickness is work," says Johnny today.

ANY MAN wondering how to whip the "retirement blues" might be interested in Johnny's story. Here it is:

In 1903 Johnny, a bandy-legged boy of 14, solemn in the dignity of knee britches and bowler hat, applied for and received the post of night office boy for the Associated Press, then as now the world's largest news gathering organization, for a salary of $4.50 a week. The day office boys got $3.50.

It was a big sacrifice for Johnny. In his heart he really wanted to be a jockey. He was built for it in slimmness of body and a whip-like agility of mind.

Instead he became a type-writer jockey, one of the fastest of his day.

FOR 40 DAYS he was the news librarian of the Associated Press, filing on cards the history of a generation of news as it was made from day to day.

He also filed it in his heart, and when you asked him for it—well, it was there. Johnny was a long lesson in loyalty. He was strictly an organization man. He didn't get to travel much himself—there was a family to be raised—but he traveled and suffered in spirit with scores of foreign correspondents.

His closest buddy was the late Jim Mills, dean of war reporters in his time, whom Gandhi once said he expected would be waiting to interview him at the Gates of Heaven. (They both have reached the gates, since then, but Jim hasn't found a way to get the story through.)

When Johnny Crooks, this skinny reservoir of news history, went to pasture last summer, there was a big gap left in the office where he had worked for so long. It was a spiritual thing. Johnny wasn't happy either. He cherished the inscribed gold watch (it was what he wanted) and other farewell souvenir gifts for more than half a century of service. He had the pension. He also was free now every day to watch the morning workouts at racetracks where, as a boy, he had dreamed of riding.

BUT HE MISSED the daily bugle of duty, the active feeling of belonging.

After nine endless, restless weeks, Johnny heard of a part-time stenographic job in a Wall Street law firm, applied for it and got it.

He found age no handicap in adjusting to a new job technique. He is buoyant again, happy in new loyalties. The name of the firm that gave him this post-retirement break (Johnny says if I mention it please make him a partner) is Flood, Conway, Walsh, Stahl—and Johnny Crooks.

now, says idleness is a curse to a long-time working man. He advocates a new start.

"It's a mistake for an employer to look at a man's gray hair and refuse him a job," he said. "Gray matter goes with gray hair—and it's always worth hiring."

"IT IS WORK that keeps a man young. It is wonderful to learn new things. I've made a lot of new friends. I'm happier now than I've been in many a year."

Johnny, who has more bounce to the ounce at 66 than many a man half his age, gives this as his personal recipe for keeping pep:

"Don't dissipate. Don't overeat. Do everything in moderation. And attend church regularly."

ABC Tourney On at Rochester

Rochester, March 2 (AP)—Bowling's world series, the 53rd annual American Bowling Congress tournament, swings into action tomorrow in Rochester's bright and shining War Memorial — an indoor sports palace now in its first season of use.

A total of 5,845 teams from 41 states and three foreign countries will have rolled by the time the tourney closes May 20. This is the fifth largest entry list in the history of the ABC and the largest ever east of Detroit.

The host city of Rochester will parade 1,534 teams to the 40-alley layout and the city's largest industry, Eastman Kodak, has set a new industrial record by entering 312 teams.

THE FABULOUS Pfeiffer Beers from Detroit, the open division team winners in three of the past four years, will defend their championship March 14. They dropped 3,136 pins last year.

A member of the championship team, Freddy Bujack, will be defending champ in the all-events division. He won a year ago at Indianapolis with a total of 1,993.

Other defending champs, with last year's winning totals, include Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee in singles, 738, and George Pacropis and Harry Zoeller of Wilkes Barre, Pa., in doubles, 1,365.

The prize fund amounts to $403,613.

BUJACK WILL be seeking his fourth ABC individual title. He shares the distinction of being a four-time champion with Joe Wilman of Chicago and the late John Koster of Nyack.

Formal opening ceremonies will be staged in the huge arena beside the Genesee River at 6:30 p. m. (EST). But the actual bowling will start at 1 p. m.

Among the features of the 79-day run will be the sixth annual Masters tournament May 12-16 with Buzz Fazio of Detroit defending his title. Other events include the annual meeting of the Bowling Writers Assn. of America and ABC Hall of Fame night April 12 and the ABC annual convention April 13.

State Junior Basketball in Semi-Final Play

Binghamton, March 2 (AP)—Four New York State teams squared off today in the semi-final round of the Region 15 junior college basketball tournament.

New York City Technical Institute of Brooklyn met Erie County Tech of Buffalo and Broome County Tech of Binghamton faced Westchester College of White Plains.

In opening games yesterday, New York overcame Wesley Junior College of Dover, Del., 100-82. Erie trounced Orange County Community College of Middletown 80-58. Broome tripped Hudson Valley Tech of Troy 74-73 and Westchester downed Paul Smith's of Paul Smith, N. Y., 73-67.

The outstanding individual performance was turned in by Alan Wheatley, who scored 30 in Wesley's losing cause.

The champion, to be decided tomorrow, will compete in the National Junior College tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., March 20-24. Region 15 is comprised of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

Of all the glues used in rod building the Resorcinol Resins are probably the most useful.

Glues of this group are usually of the two-element type, consisting of a liquid glue and a separate hardener in powder form. A filler, such as walnut shell flour, is ordinarily mixed with the hardener to facilitate working.

IN SOME respects these glues are similar to both the urea and phenol types. Resorcinol adhesives are quite responsive to temperatures above 75 degrees F., setting up in approximately one hour at 90 degrees F.

Additional heating does not in any way damage the glued joint. In fact, a rod section intended for conventional freshwater fishing can be glued together, held at 160 degrees F. for four hours, remove from the warming box, scraped, ferrules, and cork handles fitted, guides and top mounted, bamboo surfaced sealed, and be ready for fishing the evening of the day the work began.

JOINTS WILL test in excess of 90 per cent of full rated strength. The remaining 10 per cent will be realized by natural ageing, which should take no longer than one week.

The liquids used in preparation of the glue include an appreciable percentage of alcohol. The low water content, therefore, tends to minimize the bamboo swelling so noticeable when other glues containing 40 to 60 per cent water are used.

FROM THE practical viewpoint this means that the ferrules will be mounted much sooner without fear of loosening due to the shaft's drying and shrinking.

In addition, resorcinol resin is completely waterproof, extremely stable under conditions of heat up to the charring temperature, of the wood, and proof against attack by fungus, mold, or bacteria. From the purely functional standpoint there is very little to be desired.

Its color, a reddish-purple, however, is a distinct disadvantage. Regardless of the precision to which the individual splines are cut, it is practically impossible to produce an invisible seam.

Buffalo U. Heads For Best Year Since '31 Slate

(By The Associated Press)
The University of Buffalo, with a single game remaining, today was assured of its best basketball season since it went undefeated in 1931.

The Bulls held visiting Alfred to four field goals in the first period last night as they romped to an 86-60 victory.

Utica closed its season with a 9-10 record as it downed Oswego Teachers 74-65. It was also the final game for Oswego, which has a 2-15 record.

THE CANTON Aggies edged host Potsdam Teachers 67-65 in the only other upstate game.

Meanwhile, the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. tournament arrangements took more definite shape. Canisius was paired for the opening round with the champion of the Atlantic Coast Conference, still to be decided.

In the other game at New York's Madison Square Garden on the March 12 opening program, Holy Cross will meet Temple.

Cager Pairings Set for Garden

Pairings for the Eastern regional playoffs of the National Collegiate basketball championships at Madison Square Garden were announced yesterday.

Temple faces Holy Cross in one of the games on March 12. Canisius plays the still to be determined champion of the Atlantic Coast Conference in the second game.

On March 13, Manhattan plays Connecticut and the Southern Conference champion meets the Ivy League champion.

A 21-Year-Old Can Get Hurt, Too

Pee Wee Ready For Brooks' 14th Season

Little Captain Confident of A Big Season

(By The Associated Press)

Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, who got his nickname because he liked to shoot marbles as a youngster, still feels "like a kid" as he prepares to start his 14th season with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"Maybe an injury will stop me," he said today. "But a 21-year-old can get hurt too. And barring something of that nature, there isn't the slightest doubt in my mind about my ability to have another good year."

Pee Wee Reese

PEE WEE BATTED 282 in 145 games in 1955 and there are some who will argue that he's not Roy Campanella or Duke Snider—was the most important guy for the Dodgers, who won their first world's championship.

"I'm more confident this year than I was last spring," said the 36-year-old shortstop. "I had some serious doubts a year ago. My legs were giving me trouble and one day I told my wife that it looked like the beginning of the end."

When the team came north, he looked up Leslie Mac Mitchell, the retired track star. Mac Mitchell told him that running over a hard indoor track was the worst possible thing for a ballplayer to do.

"And I had done just that," Reese admitted. "This winter, I did not running at all. Just some bicycling to keep my legs in trim."

REESE IS optimistic about the Dodgers' chances of repeating in the National League race. "I think we'll win again. Sure, there'll be a lot of talk that we do not have an every-day regular at second base or third or in left field. But like last year, we'll have a pretty good player at those positions whatever happens."

The managers made most of the news in the other camps. New York Giants' skipper Bill Rigney named Foster Castleman as his No. 1 choice for the regular second base spot. Pittsburgh pilot Bobby Bragan slapped a midnight curfew on the Pirates, declaring "let's do things my way, so I can take the blame."

CINCINNATI manager Birdie Tabbetts reported that 18 of the 37 players on the Redlegs' roster are pitchers. Minnie Minoso's arrival in the White Sox' quarters in Tampa, Fla., made skipper Marty Marion a happy man. Milwaukee's Charlie Grimm was jollier after watching the slugging of rookie first baseman Earl Hersh.

Among several key players still holding out were Harvey Kuenn and Earl Torgeson of Detroit. Bobby Avila of the Indians, George Crowe of the Braves and Billy Martin of the Yankees.

The correct name of heavy-weight boxer Nino Valdes is Geraldo Ramos Ponciano Valdes.

Major league keggers compiled eight "600" series last night, evenly divided between the Ferraro Major and Sportsmen's circuit.

Harold Broskie's 630, with 172-233-225, in the Ferraro loop, led the field.

Jerry Oster slammed 203-212-202-617, Buster Ferraro 232-203-609, Larry Weishaup 205-205-600.

George Magley's 612 (210-185-217) topped the Sportsmen. Joe Fautz spilled 220-202-611, George Brown 207-202-602, Daisy Schatzel 244-607.

Jim Petersen unloaded 190-225-212-627 in the Federation American.

Costa 3-1 Pick Over Vasquez

New York, March 2 (AP)—Madison Square Garden may be only a "studio" for television as far as boxing goes these days but it's still the shining goal of most fighters. Sometimes appearing in the Garden for the first time makes even veterans freeze.

"That's what happened to me the last time against Frankie Ryff," said Mexico's Baby Vasquez. "I was too tight and too excited."

Vasquez gets his chance tonight to atone for his flop against Ryff, a leading lightweight contender, when he meets clever Carmelo (Chubby) Costa, second ranking featherweight contender from Brooklyn.

THE 24-YEAR old Mexican lightweight champion will have to be in top form to give the fast moving, fast hitting Brooklynite a battle. Costa has been made a 3-1 favorite to win the 10-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast (NBC TV, radio, 10 p. m. EST).

After losing to Ryff Dec. 23, Vasquez rebounded to knock out Bobby Cardenas in one round on Jan. 7. His overall record is 38-10-1.

Costa, gunning for a title shot at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler, won five and drew one for an unbeaten 1955 campaign. His record is 28-2-4.

Mexican Caddy Leads in Open

Mexico City, March 1 (AP)—A Mexican caddy, Mario Martinez, shot a 7-under-par 65 to tie the Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex. for the first-round lead today in the Mexican national open.

Close behind on the 6,500-yard Chapultepec course was a Mexican City professional, Percy Clifford, who sank a tough 6-foot putt from the edge of the green for the only eagle of the day.

Cherny Quintet Stays Unbeaten

Chernys	Won	Lost
Red Raiders	5	0
Herrricanes	3	2
Redlegs	3	2

Cherny Brothers completed their Rec Women's League season by trouncing the Red Raiders, 43-20, for their fifth straight win last night.

The unbeaten lassies become the No. 1 team in the championship playoffs that get under way Thursday, March 8, at the MJM gym.

CHERNYS MEET Red Raiders at 8 o'clock with the Herrricanes and Redlegs clashing in the opener at 7 o'clock.

Rockets whipped the Ramblers, 29-18, in a game that had no bearing on the playoffs. Both teams had been eliminated earlier.

Audrey Cherny and Barbara Walko shared individual honors with 19 points each. And both in identical fashion, eight fields and three free throws.

PHYLLIS KAYE rimmed 12 points for the powerful Cherny outfit. Mary Meyers canned 10 and Rosemary Pillsworth 8 for the Raiders.

Pat Hayman and Betty Saban rimmed six apiece for the Ramblers.

Lakers Retain Playoff Hopes Beating Phils

(By The Associated Press)

Followers of the Minneapolis Lakers could well try today to improve on the old adage with "it's better Slater than never."

They'd be referring to Slater Martin, the veteran guard who last night came through in the nick of time to give Minneapolis an important 102-100 victory over the powerful Philadelphia Warriors.

Martin dropped in two free throws in the final two seconds as the Lakers enhanced their chances of grabbing a playoff spot in the National Basketball Assn.

IN OTHER games, the Rochester Royals bottled up St. Louis' ace Bob Pettit in the second half to down the Hawks 95-94 and Syracuse led all the way in beating the Boston Celtics 111-100.

Rochester held Pettit to six points in the second half after the sophomore sensation had scored 21 in the first. Maurice Stokes had 24 for the Royals, who moved to within a half game of the Hawks, the Western Division third-placers.

Syracuse, in opening a two-game bulge over tailend New York in the Eastern Division, raced to a eight point lead in the first quarter and breezed in.

SPORTS

Charles J. Tiano

Jersey City Cardinals and Nyack A. C. appear to have the inside track for the seventh and eighth franchises in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League, which operated with six teams in its maiden season of 1955.

Both entries are substantial organizations, who were selected over a solid Saugerties application. The Cardinals competed in the Negro National League last year and Nyack captured the Rockland county semi-pro title.

The Negro National League isn't what it used to be, but the Cardinals are a welcome addition to the circuit. Nyack figures to field a strong threat for titular honors.

NY-NJ officials from President William D. Ryan down the line anticipate better public reaction to the new alignment. Fans seldom cotton to a six-team circuit in baseball.

The league setup after Sunday's meeting at Paterson, N. J., is expected to include Fred Davi's Kingston Colonials, Newburgh Dodger Jewels, Poughkeepsie, Brooklyn Windsors, Bronx Mohawks, Paterson Uncle Sams, Nyack and Jersey City.

Nine players were signed to organized baseball contracts from the NY-NJ loop last year. This indicates high quality of performance. The league received shabby public support in 1955. It deserves a better fate in 1956.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Irwin J. Thomas, the Freeman's assistant city editor, is living it up big at St. Petersburg, Fla. training base of the New York Yankees. He admits watching the Stengeler on one of their training sessions, a betrayal of all loyal New York Giant rooters, to be sure. . . . Perfect bowling games come fairly easy for some star bowlers. Others wait a lifetime for the magic "300". Frank Clause, the history teacher from Old Forge, Pa., rolled the ninth 300 game of his illustrious league career on Feb. 12. This broke a three-way tie for third place on the all-time list (George Billick, Old Forge, Pa., 12; Hank Marino, Milwaukee, 11) that had been created 10 days earlier when Walter Ward of Cleveland spilled No. 8. Pat Patterson of St. Louis rolled his eight last fall.

Of Men and Mice:

Kingston, a perennial New York Giant stronghold, has further interest in the men of Cogan's Bluff with the imminent departure of Paul Giannuzzi and Bob Shelghtner to Melbourne, Fla. Then there is always Wes Westrum, the wartime Recreation catcher, who hit the spring headlines by reporting slightly overweight. Word from Newburgh is that Billy Short, the ex-NFA pitching wizard, has returned home following the close of the Yankees Rookie School at St. Petersburg. He'll remain home for several weeks before reporting to the Class C team at Monroe, La. The Yankees have a full working agreement with Monroe. Short was with Bristol, a Class D League team in Virginia during 1955. . . . Gale Ritchey, a 40-year-old Akron, Ohio, pin veteran, smashed a national season's high of 835 on Feb. 13. He had games of 280, 258 and 297, a 6-7-10 split on the last ball ruining his bid for 300.

City Baseball League managers will hear unprecedented news next Wednesday night when they meet to discuss plans for the 1956 campaign. The annual banquet showed a profit of $25.00, thanks to some skillful promotion by Fred Davi and Eddie Murphy. All new franchise seekers are invited to attend. The league also is seeking umpires, a collector, ground keeper, secretary and treasurer. All candidates are requested to write Davi at Box 165, central post office at Glasco Athletic Club, Glasco, N. Y. . . . Connie Mack's death, says Murray Olderman (NEA) revived anecdotes about the patriarch's trouble getting names straight. Grove was Groves, Cochrane was Corcoran . . . but never was he more non-plussed than in 1934 his all-stars on a tour of the Orient arrived in Nagoya . . . and found Moe Berg behind the desk at the hotel checking in the boys in Japanese. . . . "Oh, migosh," managed Mr. Mack.

All-Americans Sparkle

Heinsohn and Floyd Sizzle With 94 Points

Tom Heinsohn and Darrell Floyd, two all-Americans, shared the spotlight with an upset and a couple of close shaves in college basketball last night.

Heinsohn did everything but put out the cat for Holy Cross, popping in 51 points and clearing 42 rebounds as the Crusaders, warming up for the NCAA tournament, routed Boston College 111-75.

Floyd, Furman's two-time all-America, was only a step behind in point production with 43 and a Southern Conference tournament record while leading the Paladines to an 84-70 elimination of Virginia Tech.

It was the southern's shindig at Richmond, Va., that unveiled the upset, with Washington & Lee's four-star Generals laying the wood to George Washington 63-60. George Washington had been co-favored with West Virginia to win the three-day tournament.

DAVIDSON almost made it a complete sweep by the underdogs, giving West Virginia a tussle before bowing 59-53. The Mountaineers met Floyd and Furman tonight in the semifinals with Washington & Lee paired against Richmond, which held William & Mary to four first half field goals to win 79-62 in the first round.

The Atlantic Coast Conference tournament at Raleigh, N. C., had its share of first round scares, too. North Carolina State, ranked No. 5 in the nation and the defending ACC champ, had to scramble after blowing a 17-point lead to edge Clemson 88-84. North Carolina, ranked eighth nationally, came out of its game with Virginia Huffin' and puffin' with a slim 81-77 decision.

WAKE FOREST, No. 20, didn't see daylight until the last 10 minutes in its 79-64 victory over South Carolina. Wake meets North Carolina tonight.

Duke, ranked No. 11 and slated to meet NC State in the other semi-final tonight, was the only easy winner, thumping Maryland 94-69.

Elsewhere, DePaul was too big and too potent for Manhattan in a battle of NCAA tourney entries with Ron Sobiechewicz scoring 23 points in an 86-70 rout at Madison Square Garden.

Utah wrapped up its second straight Skyline title by bopping Colorado A&M 91-60.

Gopher Champs

St. Petersburg, Fla.—(NEA)—The St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff led the National League in allowing home runs last season—the Card hurlers feeding 185 four-base pitches to the opposition.

KHS Winds Up Season With CHS

Kingston High closes out the regular phase of the 1955-56 campaign tonight against Catskill High at the Kate Walton field house at 8 o'clock.

The next action for Coach Jack Gilligan's Maroons is slated March 9 in the inter-sectional opener.

ULSTER COUNTY Athletic action is still boiling with Saugerties and Kerhonkson needing victories to maintain their tie.

If Saugerties stops Ontario Central at Saugerties and Kerhonkson wins over New Paltz, the UCAI championship playoff will be held Tuesday at 7:30 at the Ontario Central school gym.

Highland and Marlboro play in another UCAI contest tonight.

Grapefruit Notes

Vero Beach, Fla., March 2 (AP)

In one respect Brooklyn manager Walt Alston is getting his men ready for the season right from the start.

Alston today ordered all Dodger players to wear helmets during batting practice. This is so that they'll become accustomed to them by the time the National League rule on mandatory protection goes into effect on opening day.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 2 (AP)

There's at least one good reason to believe that rookies Norm Seiborn and Mark Freeman will stick with the New York Yankees this season.

Each on the club's national defense list and can be carried over, and above the team's 25-man playing roster, Seiborn is an outfielder, Freeman a pitcher.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 2 (AP)

Ask New York Giant manager Bill Rigney what he's looking for and he'll tell you "right hand power."

Specifically, Rigney is searching for someone to take the pressure off Willie Mays, who furnishes most of the distance hitting from the right side.

EARL HERSH, 23-year-old slugging first baseman from Atlanta, who hopes to make the switch to playing the outfield for the Milwaukee Braves, overshadowed a couple of veterans in Braves workouts.

Joe Adcock, crippled at the end of last season with a broken arm, and Andy Pafko took their first workouts Wednesday. But Manager Charlie Grimm, commenting on the session, saved most of his praise for the youngster. Grimm was, he said, "pleasantly surprised."

Hersh, carried on the Wichita roster, hit .314 for Atlanta and belted 25 home runs.

OUTFIELDER Gene Woodling

signed his contract with the Cleveland Indians today.

The Tribe has now only one holdout, second baseman Bobby Avila who is remaining in his native Mexico.

Woodling had a long conference with general manager Hank Greenberg Wednesday. They got together again Thursday and soon came to an agreement.

BALTIMORE Orioles outfielder

Chuck Diering signed his 1956 contract yesterday, leaving outside the flock only outfielder

Dave Philley, expected in camp in a couple of days.

Diering got a $1,000 raise which is believed to have put his salary at around $15,000. He belated .256 last season.

GUS ZERNIAL veteran Kansas City Athletics' outfielder, says he's about five pounds overweight at 216 but isn't worrying about it.

"Actually I don't want to get much lighter," he commented.

"One year I reported for spring training weighing 206 and by the time the season started I was so weak that I had to drag the bat to the plate."

Court Suspends Ban on Santee

Suspended Ace

To Run Saturday In Casey Mile

New York, March 2 (AP)—

Wes Santee, America's controversial miler, returns to competition tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden with the blessing of a state Supreme Court justice and the approval of the Knights of Columbus track officials.

A court injunction signed yesterday by Justice James McNally and followed several hours later by a statement from K. of C. meet director Tom Harrigan paved the way for the return of the 24-year-old marine lieutenant.

Wes Santee

Santee, America's fastest miler at 4:00.5 and this country's chief

1500-meter hope in the Melbourne Olympics, was handed a life time suspension Feb. 19 by the Amateur Athletic Union's executive committee.

THE AAU action came after a special investigating committee reported the former University of Kansas runner had taken monies above allowable expenses for a number of meets in 1955.

At Quantico, Va., where he is on duty with the Marine Corps,

Santee said "I've been training for it (the mile)."

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's

attorney who sought the temporary injunction, said Wes would arrive in New York today.

Justice McNally set March 9 as the date for the hearing on the injunction. Upon that decision likely will determine whether

Santee will be permitted to run in meets at Cleveland, Chicago and Milwaukee later this month.

YESTERDAY'S action set the stage for a return engagement between Santee and Ron Delany, an Irishman from Villanova who has ruled the mile roost all season. In their only previous meeting, at Boston Jan. 28, Delany won in 4:06.3 as Santee faded to fourth after following a blazing early pace. Wes was clocked in 4:08.8.

Also entered in the K. of C.

mile are Jim Bailey, NCAA champion with a 4:05 plus clocking from the University of Oregon and Australia, Fred Dwyer,

George King, Jim Doulin and Ed

Kirk. Santee won the mile in 4:10.4 last year.

The AAU had no immediate comment on the Knights of Columbus decision.

THE DAY following Santee's

suspension Secretary-Treasurer

Dan Ferris warned meet pro-motors that Santee's entry in a meet—even with an injunction—would not be accepted. At the same time Ferris advised meet directors they would face loss

Burke's 7-Under

65 Leads by One At Baton Rouge

Baton Rouge, La., March 2 (AP)

—Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., today took a one-stroke lead and an aching back into the second round of the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament.

Burke fired a seven-under-par 32-33-65 in the opening round yesterday over the 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course. He missed a 15-inch putt on the 18th hole that would have given him a 64, tying the course mark. Close behind with a 33-33-66 was Ed Furgul of St. Louis.

BUNCHED AT 67 were amateur

Rod Funseth of Spokane,

Wash.; George Bayer of Cincinnati, who tied the course record with a 31 on the first nine, Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, N. Y.;

and Harry Dee of Hartsdale,

N. Y.

After shooting his sizzling round, Burke went to Louisiana

State University where athletic trainer Marty Broussard treated a pleurisy condition with di-athermy and infra red rays.

Burke started the winter circuit later, after several months layoff.

"This is my fifth tournament," he said. "I get a little better each time."

SAUGERTIES GAME CLUB APPOINTS COMMITTEE HEADS

Saugerties, March 1—Committee appointments were announced and a plan to raise 400 pheasants locally was proposed at the regular meeting of Saugerties Fish and Game Club held Monday night in R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms of Saugerties Municipal Building.

Appointments were made as follows: Pheasants, Roy Longendyke; rabbits, Ted Longendyke and Romeo Ginestrino; Fish, Arthur Sperl; warm water fish, Ross Snyder; finance, Harold Van Voorhis; membership, Mr. Snyder and Ronald B. Johnston; publicity, Albert J. Cawein; entertainment, John Kaminski and refreshments, Anthony Carlanite.

THE STANDBY committee includes Ernest E. Schirmer, Carlton B. King, Mr. Snyder, William Lang and Austin Simmons. During the discussion on pheasant raising, Donald Delamater, a new member from Saugerties presented his proposal to raise pheasants for the club. The club took immediate action by ordering 400 day old pheasant chicks. The agreement with Mr. Delamater allows payments of 50 cents per bird if released at seven weeks and a price to be determined for birds held over seven weeks. The club will pay for the grain.

More than 50 members attended the meeting at which President Elden Myer presided. Seven new members were welcomed into the organization. They were: Thomas Kitson of Mt. Marion; Peter Keizer Sr. and Peter Keizer Jr., of Port Ewen; John Hobert of Lake Katrine; Donald Delamater of Saugerties; Joseph Pfeiffer of Blue Mountain and Chris Schilling of West Saugerties.

THE RABBIT committee reported that rabbits authorized for purchase at the last meeting were ordered from Musgrave Brothers and would arrive around March 1.

Mr. Kaminski, program chairman was authorized to contact Wallace Tabor to obtain information regarding the showing of his films for a benefit for the club.

President Myer appointed Mr. Johnstone chairman of the annual banquet with Casper Miller as assistant. The banquet will be scheduled for some future date.

Donald Rightmyer of Catskill was designated the monthly award winner.

Following the meeting refreshments were served and sound-color films entitled "The Showman Shooter and Flying Fisherman and Flying Hunter" were shown on equipment furnished by Saugerties Sales and Service.

Ready to Surrender

New York, March 2 (AP)—The last of the bail-jumping Communist fugitives is reported ready to surrender. A letter to the press—purportedly written by Henry Winston—announced he will surrender Monday at the U. S. marshal's office. Winston, 45, who was organizational secretary of the Communist party, is under sentence to five years in prison. Gilbert Green, 49, another of the fugitive Reds, surrendered last Monday after mailing a similar letter. He also was under a five-year sentence.

ANOTHER called attention to traffic congestion in the vicinity of the stadium and questioned the accessibility of a school in that neighborhood.

Mr. Soper, who was directed to set up an educational committee to study the problem of school needs and anticipated needs, number of students, distribution of students geographically in the area, what departments should be "housed" in the proposed new construction, etc., reported that the committee was in process of formation.

He said periodic reports would be made to the board. More detailed information on building sites will be sought and a "formal plan" presented later.

THE WHOLE matter is "still in the discussion stage," Mr. Soper said.

The matter of replacement or enlargement of elementary schools is also under consideration.

Construction of a new junior high school depends to some extent on final action on the proposed Greater Kingston School District now under study by the State Education Department.

THE GREATER district would include seven outside elementary schools: Woodstock, West Hurley, Old Hurley, Tillson, Lake Katrine, Rifton and the new Esopus school.

Members of the building committee are Chester Baltz, Harold Darling and William Ryland and of the Greater Kingston School District, Mr. Baltz, County Judge Louis G. Bruhn and Mrs. John Schoonmaker.

Losee Sentenced To Long Term

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—A school building handyman was sentenced today to 20 to 40 years in prison for killing a boy who wouldn't obey him.

Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz imposed the penalty on Harvey William Losee, 48, for slaying 12-year-old Gerald Foster last Oct. 28 with a blow on the head with a lead pipe.

The judge called Losee a "very dangerous man," and said the severe sentence was called for. Losee, a handyman at the Anderson School, Staatsburg, N. Y., had pleaded guilty to manslaughter charges, claiming he hadn't meant to kill the boy.

The boy's body was found in the woods near the school by two hunters, after the lad had been missing from his Poughkeepsie home since Oct. 12. Losee admitted he had left the body there.

He said he had found the boy in a school-yard barn. When the youngster refused to leave, Losee said he hit the boy with the pipe and then carried him into the woods, thinking he was only stunned.

Charge Illegal Practices

Riverhead, N. Y., March 2 (AP)—A team of state examiners has accused the administrative department of Suffolk county of illegal practices and bad management. In a 70-page report filed yesterday at the county seat the 12-member group from the state Department of Audit and Control reported alleged illegal or improper transactions ranging from $1 to more than $400,000. The itemized report covers the period from Jan. 1, 1953, through Dec. 31, 1954. The document follows on the heels of accusations of mismanagement made by State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro.

Takes Back Post

Tokyo, March 2 (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's ex-king and ex-premier, has taken back the premier's post in his Indochinese kingdom. The government radio in Peiping—where the prince concluded a state visit last week—announced the government change and the Cambodian embassy here confirmed it. The embassy added Sihanouk also would head the Cambodian delegation to the next UN Assembly. He toured the United States in 1953. The embassy also reported Khim Tih, a member of the king's high council who visited Red China with the prince, has been appointed deputy premier.

Holdup Two Hotels

New York, March 2 (AP)—Two men, one armed with a pistol, staged holdups in two midtown hotels today and escaped with a total of $567. The pair struck first at 2:45 a. m. in the Nassau Hotel, at 56 E. 59th street, between Madison and Park avenues. They roughed up the bell captain and struck the night manager over the head with a telephone receiver. The loot was $407. The robbers made their second foray at 4 a. m. in the Hotel Somerset, 150 W. 47th street, near 7th avenue, and escaped with $160.

Two Nuns Killed in Fire

Quebec, March 2 (AP)—Two elderly nuns were killed early today in a fire in the mother house of Sisters of Charity in Quebec. More than 300 other nuns escaped from the building. The fire apparently broke out in the ground floor of the seven-story stone building. No estimate of the damage was immediately available. The victims were identified as Sister St. Ferreol, 75, and Sister St. Claire d'Assise, 72.

NEW OFFICERS OF ULSTER GOP CLUB

Election of officers of the Town of Ulster Republican Club was held at a meeting Thursday evening at Ulster Hose Co. No. 5. Senator Arthur H. Wicks and City Judge Raymond J. Mino were the guest speakers at the meeting. Seated (l-r) Edward J. Devine, secretary, Mrs.

Rose P. Peters, treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Kelder, assistant secretary, Mrs. Leslie Hotelling, second vice president and Judge Mino. Standing, Supervisor Percy Bush, Stephen Hyatt, president, principal of Myron J. Michael School, Senator Wicks, Attorney Louis Di Donna and Francis McCullough, first vice president. (Freeman Photo).

Wicks Tells GOP Club Interest in Politics Needed

Necessity for citizens to interest themselves in government and politics and the seriousness of voting were pointed out by Senator Arthur H. Wicks at an organizational meeting of the Town of Ulster Republican Club, which was attended by more than 200 persons at Ulster Hose Co. No. 5 on Thursday evening.

OFFICERS elected were Stephen Hyatt, who is principal of the Myron J. Michael School, president; Francis McCullough, first vice president; Mrs. Leslie Hotelling, second vice president; Edward Devine, secretary; Mrs. Charles Kelder, assistant secretary and Mrs. Rose P. Peters, treasurer.

Sen. Wicks expressed his admiration to the people of the township for their initiative and enthusiasm for a Republican club. He congratulated them on their desire to support a program of social fellowship and political activity.

He emphasized the need, under a democratic system, of citizens interesting themselves in the affairs of government and politics. "It is a serious duty of each of us to exercise his duty to vote at caucuses and primaries, as well as on Election Day," the senator said. Sen. Wicks also commended the club on its proposal to have an active welcoming committee to greet newcomers "to the rapidly expanding township."

CITY JUDGE Raymond J. Mino pointed out the necessity of the Republican Club as a basic unit in the Republican party, the unit, he said, from which it derives its strength and intelligence and thereby produces the leaders of the community and country.

He said such a club is not only important to the political party but equally important to the citizens of the community for "it permits individual expression on social, economic and political values."

Attorney Louis Di Donna, chairman of the planning committee, outlined suggestions for possible future activity of the club. He mentioned, among other planned activities, panel discussions on town, county and state government, its theory, practice and application.

TALKS BY governmental representatives on pertinent and current issues, such as zoning and planning, tax equalization, special districts and ordinances are also planned, he said.

A social program, which would include an annual dinner, family picnic, or clambake, fashion shows, outdoor musical programs, card parties, etc., were also mentioned in the outline.

Parkers Pay $3,650

February parking meter collections totaled $3,650, the city treasurer's office reported today. This was $50 more than the January total and $650 more than the February, 1955 total.

Mello Is Acquitted Of Numbers Charge

New York, Mar. 2 (Special)—Joseph Mello, 51, of Sunnycroft Ranch, Walkill, was acquitted here today of a charge that he took numbers bets. He was tried in Manhattan Special Sessions Court.

He had been charged with operating a numbers betting station in the basement of 350 West 119th Street, New York, on January 20th. Another similar charge pending against Mello for the same offense on February 8th is scheduled for trial later this month.

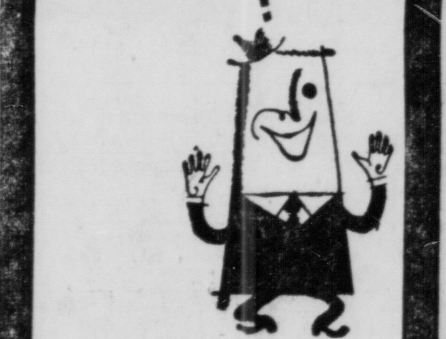

The Walkill man's co-defendant in the January case, Frank Fasanaro, 35, of 235 East 124th Street, New York, pleaded guilty to the charge on February 9th. He is awaiting sentence.
